MACHINE'S PARTIAL VICTORY CAUSED BY BROKEN PLEDGES

THERE WERE NO VOTES TO SPARE

Their Action Gave Ring Its Only Crumb of Consolation Yesterday.

CITIZENS HAD EASY VICTORY IN COMMON

Charles Crawford Defeated Max G. Leslie for Re-Election as President of That Branch by Vote of 35 to 14—Reformers Will Control All Committees.

Two pledge-breakers—John Paul of the Thirty-second ward and Evan Jones of the Thirty-sixth ward—made it possible for the machine to organize select council by the election of John S. Lambie as president.

It was the votes of these two men that secured the defeat of the will of the people in the upper branch. Through their breaking faith James J. Booth, the Citizens party candidate, lost the office. He needed the two votes to win, and had them until last Friday, when these members for reasons best known to themselves, saw fit to go over to the machine. The result was that Lambie had 20 votes, or a bare majority, and Booth 18.

This table shows how 9 of the 29 members, for reasons best known to themsented the sentiment of their wards, taking the majorities given Larkin and Lewis for controller as the expression of the voters in these wards:

The table shows that but nine of the men represent wards that were carried by Lewis, the combined majority being 1,077. The other 19 come from wards that gave Larkin a combined majority of 3,807. Of the number who voted for Lambie, Piatt, Schneider, Schenkel, Upperman and Wainwright were the only ones who were elected in February. The others were fortunate in being holdovers.

James J. Booth voted for Mr. Lambie as a matter of courtesy and the compliment was repaid by Mr. Lambie.

These members supported Mr. Booth: GEORGE S. FLEMING, First ward.

Easy Victory in Common.

The Citizens party won by long odds in the organization of common council, electing Charles S. Crawford over M. G. Leslie, machine candidate, by a vote of 35 to 14. There were no pledge breakers in this body. The victory in common will give the majority of the committees to the Citizens. The machine majority in select is so small that it will necessitate the attendance of every member at each meeting to block legislation. On joint ballot the Citizens have a majority of eight.

The day was completed by the induction into office of Controller John B. Larkin. At noon the councils met in joint session and administered the oath. Mr. Larkin in thanking the members took occasion to remind them that he intended to conduct his office along the lines laid down by the Citizens party platform. He announced that every promise would be kept.

Will Meet in Evenings.

Both branches of councils made radical changes in their rules, the principal one being the change of the meeting hour from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 7:30 in the evening. The change was gladly greeted by many of the old as well as the new members, many of whom can be ill-spared from their places of business during the daylight hours. This will undoubtedly necessitate the meeting of committees in the evening also. The manner of calling special meetings of councils was also changed, the new rules requiring that special meetings be called by the presidents of councils, by the standing committees, or by one-third of the membership, each member signing his name to the call. This takes from the city recorder his power of calling special meetings, except those privileges that are given him by the charter act. The rules also now provide that there shall not be any committee meeting within six hours previous to the meeting of council.

Many Citizens Present.

There was a large crowd of citizens at City hall yesterday morning. They were attracted by the promised fight for supremacy in select. The councilmen and leading politicians knew before the body assembled at 10 o'clock that Lambie would win. They also knew the reason. Clerk E. S. Martin called the upper branch to order and every member of the 38 was present.

Mr. Peary of the Twelfth ward presented Mr. Lambie's name. In doing so he took occasion to announce that he had shed his machine collar, but, his vote did not carry it out. This collar tossing proposition appeared to be popular with the machine men, for Lambie later along announced that he was unfettered.

Dr. W. D. O'Brien of the Twenty-third ward presented the candidacy of Mr. Booth. He said that as this was to be a business council a business man should preside over it. All the while Evan Jones played nervously with his lead pencil and apparently wished that the roll would be

JOHN B. LARKIN WAS SWORN IN AS CONTROLLER

BUSINESS PRINCIPLES WILL BE PRACTICED

John B. Larkin took charge of the city's finances yesterday without ostentation and with few words. He was sworn in at noon at a joint session of councils, and a few minutes later received the keys of the controller's office, which were turned over to him by the retiring controller, Joseph E. Lewis. In his public and private deliverances yesterday Mr. Larkin simply said that he would obey the law, would keep his pledges to the people, and would use more common sense than anything else in administering his office.

The change in the controller's office was made in a few moments. After taking the oath Mr. Larkin, accompanied by George W. Guthrie, proceeded to the office of the controller, and was met by Mr. Lewis, who wished him success. The two men exchanged various pleasantries, after which Mr. Lewis turned over the keys and left the office.

Assistants Reappointed.

Mr. Larkin then reappointed Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow and Bookkeeper E. S. Phelps, both gentlemen taking the oath of office. Mr. Larkin was introduced to the others of the office force and said he would not make any changes for several weeks.

"I expect to manage the controller's office along business lines," said Controller Larkin yesterday afternoon. "I expect to obey the law, but I do not expect to strain at a gnat and swallow a camel. When the city contracts a debt that is a just debt, and that ought to be paid, it will be paid with as little friction as possible. The people who elected me to this office do not want to see me take up little things and make much of them. No municipality corporation, or business firm can manage its affairs along ironclad rules, from which there can be no deviation. There must be a system, but there are many occasions upon which a controller must use his best judgment, and must act quickly for the best interests of the city.

Will Guard Public Interests.

"There will not be any grandstand plays, and on the other hand, I do not expect to be governed in the discharge of my office by what some one else wants done. When occasion arises where a stern decision is needed in protecting the people I shall make that decision and shall stand by it. No ring or boss controls this office, and the best interest of the people will be conserved in running its affairs. A broad-minded conception of things is necessary here, and we shall have as little friction as possible. Little things will not be taken up to annoy people who must do business with the office, and we shall endeavor to get along with the other departments as pleasantly as possible. Where they need curbing, however, they will get it.

"The question of buying bills of goods without contracts is not a difficult one, and can easily be settled. It is often impossible when letting contracts to think of everything that will be wanted.

On Business Principles.

"No business house could do business that way, and the city of Pittsburgh cannot do business that way. Where it becomes necessary to buy small bills without contracts I shall pay for them where the articles purchased were necessary.

"Where repairs are needed, where articles must be had at once, where city property must be saved and expense must be incurred, it is the duty of the controller to take the situation by the horns and see to it that the city loses no money, and that these bills be paid when they are lawfully incurred. I have been interested in city finances for 20 years. I have been studying the matter for that time. I have many ideas with regard to the manner in which the affairs of this office ought to be conducted and I shall put them in force from time to time as they are needed.

"There are many things about the office which I wish to learn before making any radical changes. But the office will always be conducted along broad lines, and I have instructed Mr. Morrow to say 'no' when he thinks it is necessary, and always to say 'no' when he is in doubt. We wish to serve the people, and I expect to faithfully carry out my pledges which were made to the people during the campaign. I am open to suggestions and the wishes of the people will be carried out."

Controller Larkin received a large number of callers during the afternoon, many people coming in to congratulate him and to wish him success in his office.

TAXES CAUSE BLOODY REBELLION IN JAMAICA.

PORT ANTONIO, JAMAICA, April 7.—(Copyright Cable.)—Provoked by the levy of increased taxes and what were deemed ill-advised arrests, rioting began Sunday night at Montego Bay, on the northwest coast. Hundreds of the peasantry resisted the police, and in a severe fight last night many on both sides were wounded and several, it is reported, were killed.

Acting Gov. Oliver and a general in command of troops from Kingston arrived at Montego Bay this afternoon. The rioting continues. The cruiser Tribune sailed from Kingston this morning to stand men at the scene of the disturbance.

The situation is regarded as critical, though it is expected that on the return of Gov. Hemming from Cuba peace will be restored.

THE LAST FOOTHOLD.

AN EPIDEMIC OF ROBBERY

Thieves and Burglars Ply Trade With Great Success.

A LONG LIST OF THE PLUNDERED

Twenty-Seven Persons Had Pockets Picked on Street Cars and Thoroughfares.

THE POLICE REPORT FOR FOURTEEN DAYS

In Addition to Sufferers from Pickpockets, Thirty-Six Houses and Places of Business Were Broken Into and the Loss Will Reach $5,000.

According to the robbery reports that have been made to Superintendent of Police John McAleese during the last two weeks the citizens of Pittsburgh are at the mercy of burglars and pickpockets. During that time 36 burglaries have been committed and 27 persons have suffered by the smooth-fingered thief on the street cars. The total of the plunder secured will reach almost $5,000. It must be remembered that scores of thefts have never been reported to the police.

The burglaries have been committed all over the city. The thefts by pickpockets have been largely confined to the East End districts of the city. The reports show that in almost every instance they occurred on street cars. According to the detectives, who have been detailed to apprehend these pickpockets, they are a most expert lot of thieves that have been in this city for some time. They succeed in stealing street car passengers' pocketbooks, watches and diamonds without any detection. The victim in almost every case is unable to recall just when or where he lost his valuables.

An Organized Gang.

From a description given of the men by Mrs. H. E. Cory of No. 206 Dinwiddie street they comprise a gang of five persons. She distinctly remembers having been jostled by them when she attempted to get in a street car in Penn avenue. About ten robberies have taken place on Penn avenue and Butler street cars. In the rear of Straub's brewery at Thirty-fourth and Liberty streets, ten pocketbooks were found last Saturday. They had been stripped by the pickpockets and thrown away.

They were taken to the police headquarters. The burglaries have been equally as well executed as the pickpocket thefts. The houses were entered at propitious times, and in not one instance have these "second-story men" ever awakened any of the occupants.

Superintendent of Detectives Philip Demmel has detailed some of his best men in the East End districts to arrest these pickpockets. As yet they have been unable to apprehend them.

RAILROAD DEAL CALLED OFF BY CITY COUNCIL

Baltimore Will Ask for New Bids on Western Maryland Line.

NEW CONDITIONS WILL BE IMPOSED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, April 7.—This has been a stormy day and night for the municipal officers and the syndicates which are after the city's interest in the Western Maryland railroad. Tersely stated the situation is identical to what it was before it was decided to place the road in the market. All of the bids have been rejected and if the Western Maryland railroad is ever to be sold under prevailing conditions it is more than can be forecasted at this time.

When the council committee met this morning it was the general hope that one of the four bidders would be recommended for the consideration of the city council and Mayor Hayes.

Further Delay Is Necessary.

The first development of the day was when the Hambleton interests were accorded a hearing before the committee. They argued in favor of the acceptance of their bid, and during that time Mayor Hayes announced that the $100,000 checks submitted by the bidders were not binding. This was due to the operation of the recent act of the legislature imposing new conditions before a sale could be effected. The mayor then read the new conditions and it was thought the matter of checks would be adjusted later in the day. Before the committee adjourned a resolution was offered to allow all bidders to offer supplemental propositions by 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning. This was rejected by a tie vote of 4. Later in the day the committee again met and, after a wrangle, Councilman Smith offered a motion that the Fuller bid be accepted. This in turn was defeated by a vote of 6 to 2. Chairman Timanus and Mr. Smith voting in the minority.

New Bids Decided Upon.

The climax came with the council meeting tonight. Councilman Gephart took the floor and in no uncertain tones abused Chairman Timanus and the committee in a thorough manner, demanding a report of the committee's work at once. This was voted down, and then President Sproesser of the first branch of the council introduced a measure to reject all bids and to advertise for new ones, stating the upset price and conditions of sale. Councilman Brown interrupted at this point to have the whole matter postponed until next Monday, but a demand was made for a vote on Sproesser's motion, and it was passed with a big majority of 20 to 4.

Cassatt's Significant Statement.

During the session of the council Chairman Timanus of the committee on the Western Maryland railroad made a significant statement. He said that at a dinner in New York city last Friday night President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad stated to a member of the Fuller syndicate that the Western Maryland railroad would never be sold to any one of the three syndicates which have been contending for the purchase of the road. Tonight's action of the council seems to substantiate his assertion.

BIG OFFER TO CARNEGIE.

Baltimore Humanitarian Would Give Him $5,000,000 and a Machine to Think Thoughts.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—A clergyman tonight publicly offered $5,000,000 to Andrew Carnegie. It was at a dinner given the distinguished philanthropist at the St. Denis hotel by the Society of American Authors, and the preacher, who hails from Baltimore, gave his name as the Rev. William Albert Crawford-Frost. Mr. Carnegie had just finished a happy speech when the clerical stranger arose and made his astounding offer.

"I have an invention which will be a boon to humanity for all time," he said. "It is an invention by which you may think a thought and automatically it will be written down on paper. It is a machine that is going to displace the typewriter. I call it the printograph and the vetcograph and a few other names. It is a typewriter with all the shifting and spacing done with the feet, the capitals are made with the left knee and some of the spacing with the other. It is simply a machine with which to think thoughts. Once more I will give Mr. Carnegie an opportunity to take hold of the machine and benefit humanity, and then I am done with him. He will be sorry some day if he does not accept it."

After some persuasion the Baltimore preacher was induced to sit down.

THE RECORDER'S FATE IS HANGING IN THE BALANCE

Rumor That J. O. Brown May Be Removed Gains Currency.

MR. BIGELOW HEARS OF IT

Some State Leaders Said to Believe Harmony Can Be Effected If Gov. Stone Removes Brown and Appoints Man Like W. B. Rodgers.

Thomas S. Bigelow admits that some suggestions looking toward harmony in the Republican party, in county and city have been made to him. He is considering them, but it is for the future to determine whether they will bear fruit.

It is becoming apparent that some of the state leaders are of the opinion that order could be brought out of chaos in Pittsburgh by the removal of Recorder J. O. Brown and the appointment of a man of the standing of William B. Rodgers. It was something along this line that has been brought to the attention of Mr. Bigelow.

The old organization men are said to be willing to sacrifice J. O. Brown if they thought peace could be restored. They have been conferring with some of the eastern leaders with this in view.

Nothing Definite Yet.

As near as can be learned no definite proposition has been made. Some suggestions have been placed before Mr. Bigelow.

When asked if there was any truth in the report that J. O. Brown was to be removed, Mr. Bigelow replied that there was some basis for the rumor. He said that while he had really no proposition before him, he had been advised that something of the sort might be suggested in a more definite way in the future.

Mr. Bigelow is not disposed at present to go into detail concerning any knowledge he may have in his possession begging on the question of Brown's removal. He is not prepared to say what would happen if a formal tender of the office was made by Gov. William A. Stone to any of the Citizens party leaders.

All Lies in Future.

That will be a bridge to be crossed when reached. Mr. Bigelow and his friends in the Citizens movement have no intention of going into any deal to accomplish the removal of Brown.

"So far as I am personally concerned," said Mr. Bigelow, "I will never accept the leadership or any other public office. That can be stated as positively as it is possible to do."

It is probable that later in the week Mr. Bigelow will have something more definite to say about the matters which now appear only as rumors and suggestions. It is also probable that within the next few days Senator M. S. Quay will return to Pittsburgh. What he hopes to accomplish is known to himself.

State of Washington Tries Where Minnesota Fails, but Avoids Rock on Which Latter Split.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—(Special.)—Another move against the Northern Securities merger was made in the supreme court of the United States today when Attorney General Stratton of the state of Washington entered a motion for leave to file a bill of complaint in behalf of his state. Ex-Attorney General John W. Griggs appeared for the Northern Securities Company and both attorneys said they were ready to make oral arguments on the application.

Chief Justice Fuller told them it was impossible to proceed today, and, furthermore, he could not tell when the court could assign a hearing.

ROOSEVELT IN THE SOUTH.

Greeted by Large Crowds on His Way to Charleston.

DANVILLE, VA., April 7.—President Roosevelt's journey through Virginia has been marked by extreme cordiality and enthusiasm and he has shown the keenest interest in the historic country through which the train is passing. The president left Washington this afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Attorney General Knox and Secretary Wilson.

The president's first remarks were addressed to a small crowd at Rappahannock, where the train made a short stop for water. Large throngs greeted him at Charlottesville, Lynchburg and Danville, despite a drenching rain.

called and his unpleasant job ended. A week ago a son of Jones was made a detective, although he had never had an experience in police work. The vote revealed the success of the machine.

Lambie's Promises.

Mr. Lambie made a speech. He promised to be fair and not rule in the interest of factions or cliques. He also pledged himself to treat the Citizens members properly in the distribution of committeeships.

Common council chamber was elaborately decorated. On the desks of many of the members were beautiful floral offerings from admiring friends. Assistant Clerk W. C. Gearing called the branch to order. Thomas M. Brown of the Twentieth ward named his colleague, Charles S. Crawford, as the Citizens candidate. Joseph G. Armstrong of the Twenty-ninth ward suggested M. G. Leslie as the aspirant of the machine. The vote resulted as follows:

For Crawford—Baldauf, Barker, Beckert, Beechner, Bole, Brown, D. F. Crawford, Delaney, Fitzpatrick, Hughes, Jack, Lamb, Lauffer, Leslie, David Lewis, Martin McNally, McNeil, Nichols, M. E. O'Brien, Thomas O'Brien, Reitz, Sahner, Schaad, Schuck, Shaw, Shearer, Soffel, Sterrett, Stevenson, Walls, Wasson Woods, Wymard, Zenger—35.

For Leslie—Armstrong, Barr, Bonint, Brand, Cavett, C. S. Crawford, Cross, Edwards, John Lewis, Moore, Rodgers, Simmelrock, Sheehan, West—14.

E. G. Schwarzwaelder of the Twelfth ward, and John Hogue of the Thirty-fourth ward, were present, but did not vote.

Mr. Soffel of the Thirty-second ward voted for Mr. Crawford. Unlike the select councilman from that ward, John Paul, he decided to represent his constituents.

Crawford's Inaugural.

Mr. Crawford made this inaugural address:

Gentlemen: In assuming the duties and responsibilities of the presiding officer of this council, it is with a feeling of dependance, for without your aid and indulgence the desire to discharge the duties of the office in a manner deserving of your confidence, and to be entirely fair, impartial and considerate, will not be realized.

This will, indeed, be an important day in the history of Pittsburgh if it marks the beginning of the realization of the fondest hopes of her citizens for municipal reform. If councils, organized today, shall prove to be the medium through which the long sought changes in municipal affairs are effected, I shall be proud of the distinction of being the first president of this branch of Pittsburgh's reform council.

Popular Dissatisfaction.

For a long time back there has been a prevailing feeling of profound dissatisfaction with the management of our municipal affairs. So universal and intense had this dissatisfaction grown that the people determined on the 18th of February last to overthrow the government which they felt was unworthy of the citizens who live under it.

The majority of this council is elected upon a platform heading reform principles that the people have endeavored to have incorporated in the laws of our city for a number of years. If one member should fail in his duty in respect to these principles, the disappointment of his constituents, and the city at large, will be keenly felt.

We are entering upon our councilmanic duties today under monthly fair promises; we desire and shall attempt to enact such legislation as will carry out the pledges we have made to the people.

Will Take Some Time.

Our constituents must not, however, expect that such legislation can be perfected immediately; they must not be overly anxious for immediate results; they must not forget that the evils of our government have been growing for the past 20 years, and to break down the barriers of so long duration will take time and careful management.

The principal duties of councils are the making of laws for the government of our city. But the duties of councils extend beyond the mere making of laws. It sometimes becomes necessary to investigate the executive officers, to take care that they do not, or have not, transcended their authority, or been derelict in their duties.

We are living in a progressive city and in a progressive period. Our manufacturing and commercial interests are pushing forward at a very rapid gait. In our eagerness to secure and maintain an efficient municipal government, we must be careful in the making of laws that the onward progress of our grand city may not be retarded, but encouraged.

Wrangle Over Seats.

There was a wrangle in the common branch over the allotment of seats, which was finally postponed until the next regular meeting. Max G. Leslie submitted a motion that the front seats be occupied by the old members, the chairmen of committees and those who have defective sight or hearing.

This was vigorously opposed by D. F. Crawford, a new member from the Fourteenth ward, who advised some of the old members to "go away back and sit down." W. C. Reitz of the Thirty-fifth ward took an active part in this debate, but final action was postponed. The select branch decided to give the old members their present seats and to apportion the unoccupied seats to the new members.

After discussing these matters and adopting the rules both branches recessed and at 12 o'clock met in joint session in common council chamber.

Larkin Took Oath.

Here John S. Lambie administered the oath of office to Controller John B. Larkin. The latter mounted the rostrum and was introduced to councils, saying but a few words, as follows:

"Gentlemen, I do not care to make a speech, and have only a few words to say. I intend to obey the law in everything. I want your help in doing this. I shall be glad to see each and every one of you in my office at any time. The pledges that I have made to the people shall be observed. I shall keep my word."

Each branch then separately ratified the action of the joint session and adjourned. Controller Larkin filed his bond with the city clerk shortly after the adjournment of select council, and as it is necessary that both branches approve the bond a special meeting will be called for that purpose. The bond is in the sum of $10,000, and his bondsmen are John C. Reilly and James Coyle.

YESTERDAY'S VOTE IN THE BUCKEYE STATE

Unfavorable Weather Kept the Vote Down and in Only Few Cities Was Interest Shown.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, April 7.—Reports from the local elections in Ohio today show that cool and unfavorable weather generally prevailed and that there was a light vote cast with very little interest, except in a few cities.

In Cincinnati W. H. Jackson (Dem.), who has served on the superior bench for the past four years, was defeated for reelection by Probate Judge Howard Ferris, by more than 16,000, in a total vote of less than 22,000, which is much less than one-third of the total vote registered last November, but while the vote cast in Cincinnati is one of the smallest on record in recent years, the Republican plurality is the largest.

In some localities primaries were held for congressional and county conventions and for nominations by popular vote. The voting of women for members of boards of education was a feature in some cities.

At Hamilton the Democrats re-elected the mayor and city officers by 540, with majorities in council and school board.

At Mansfield the Democratic ticket was elected by over 500.

At Xenia the "wets" won and Republican city officers were elected.

At Wooster the Democratic city ticket was elected, with seven of the 10 councilmen.

At Piqua the council is a tie and the city ticket divided.

The Democrats carried Middletown, Tiffin, Kenton, Chillicothe, Ashland, Wapakoneta and Columbiana county. Republicans carried Hillsboro, Wilmington, Salem, Jackson, Lebanon, Greenfield, Portsmouth and Ironton.

At Springfield the victory for the Republican ticket was complete. The complexion of the council and school board will not be changed, each party retaining six members.

At Cleveland the result was a victory for the Democrats. The principal fight was made on the school directorship. Mayor Johnson took an active part in the campaign.

At Dayton the Democrats won a sweeping victory. The city has been in Democratic hands for several years. The old council contained 16 Democrats and 4 Republicans, while the new one will be a tie. The board of education will also be a tie.

At Warren the Republicans elected all candidates, defeating the $250,000 bond proposition for a new school building carried by a big majority.

At Marietta the good government ticket, headed by Dr. C. A. Lambert for mayor, was triumphantly elected by a majority of 700, defeating W. E. Sykes, the saloon candidate and present mayor. A perfect landslide in favor of good government took place. Other important officers on the board of education are for reform and the same is true of the remainder of the ticket.

At Alliance the entire Republican ticket, with the exception of one councilman, was elected. Otis D. Walker, Republican, was reelected mayor over Samuel Chipp, Democrat, by a majority of 509 votes.

At Ashtabula John E. McMillan, the candidate of the Union Labor ticket, is elected mayor by a majority of 149. The indications are that the majority of the Union Labor candidates are also elected. The total vote was exceedingly heavy. There were four tickets in the field.

At Newark Charles C. Forry, Republican, was elected mayor over Frank Bolton, Democrat, by about 400 majority. The Democrats elect their township ticket and six of the eight councilmen. The hospital and waterworks bond issues were authorized.

At Akron Arthur A. Koplin, Republican, was elected justice of the peace over Ebenezer Lewis, Democrat, and the Republicans elected seven councilmen and the Democrats two. This makes the council: Republicans 10, Democrats 6. The board of education will stand: Republicans 13, Democrats 3. C. A. Russell, Democrat, was elected mayor of Cuyahoga Falls over George H. E. Driver, and Ed M. Buol, Republican, mayor of Barberton over John McNamara, Democrat.

At Youngstown Mayor Frank L. Brown, Republican, was re-elected over Rolse M. Campbell, Democrat, by a substantial majority. The Republicans will have a working majority in council and board of education. They also elected their entire township ticket. The proposition to issue $150,000 city bonds for the erection of a city hall carried by a big majority.

At Kent an unprecedented Democratic landslide defeated the entire Republican corporation, township and school board tickets.

At Wooster the Democrats elected all candidates. The new council will stand three Republicans and seven Democrats.

At Lisbon the Republican ticket, township, village and school, carried through. Mayor George T. Farrell was re-elected by a vote of 604 to 130. The main interest being centered in the proposition to bond the town for $15,000 for the erection of a city hall. The vote was in favor of the improvement.

At Steubenville the Republicans elected the entire city and township tickets, also four out of six candidates for council; all the school board and four of six assessors. At Mingo Junction the Republicans elected a village clerk and one out of three councilmen.

At East Liverpool the Republican ticket was elected. Twenty thousand dollars in bonds was voted favorably for a new school building. The city voted to accept the registration law.

DEDICATION DAY SET.

The Directors of Carnegie Library at Carnegie Will Hold Formal Opening April 22.

A meeting was held in the directors' room of the new Carnegie library at Carnegie last night by the library commission and officers to discuss plans for the formal dedication of the institution on Tuesday, April 22. Several times before they had made preparations for dedication, but were unable to secure the presence of Mr. Carnegie, and they would not dedicate it without him.

At the meeting last night it was practically agreed to hold the formal dedicatory exercises on the evening of April 22. If the library commission is successful in their attempts a big demonstration will also take place in the afternoon, which will be participated in by all the pupils from the public schools of the borough. The children will probably be given a holiday and in the afternoon they will form a chorus at the library building and a program, including patriotic songs, etc., will be arranged. William Hill, president of the library commission, was unable to be present on account of severe illness with which he has been afflicted during the past few days. The appointing of the different committees was left to Mr. Hill and it is likely they will all be appointed within the next few days.

SERVIANS WILL BUILD A CHURCH

CITIZENS FROM THE BALKANS PLAN FOR SCHOOLS ALSO.

A Meeting Was Held Yesterday at Which a Fund Was Completed Which Assures the Carrying Out of the Proposition Already Outlined.

The Servian population of this city met yesterday afternoon in Wymer hall, Main street, and completed a fund for the purpose of erecting a Servian Orthodox church and building schools in every part of Allegheny county where there are 50 Servian children within a radius of 10 miles from the point of the last built school. There are some 1,500 Servians in this county, and for many years they have been attending various foreign churches, and as a result they claim their children are beginning to lose some of the ancient customs of Servia. Last week the entire male population of the Servians made a petition, through Attorney J. M. Luckley, for a charter of an intended corporation to be called the Supreme Council of the Servian Orthodox Society Sredobran. The Sredobran is an organization with much the same principles and ends of every foreign patriotic organization, viz., to keep alive the spirit of the mother country and its customs.

Some of the Servians are among Pittsburgh's well-known business men. Joan Arc Nrvos of No. 1556 Center avenue is president of the Foreign National bank of the East End, and is likewise a member of the East End board of trade. At the meeting held yesterday afternoon Mr. Nrvos presided and contributed $1,500 to the church and school fund. All together $45,000 has been donated to this fund, some of the donations coming from outside sources. Another meeting will be held next week, at which a committee on sites for the new church and some of the proposed schools will report. The church will, in all likelihood, be built in East Liberty, as it would be the most central point for the Servian population. It is proposed to build a brick edifice, with a seating capacity of 2,000. The work of erection is to commence, according to the desire of the people, not later than 10 days after the site has been purchased.

There are but few Servian priests in this country, but arrangements are being made to have a missionary priest named Father John Marzio take charge of the congregation until such time as a permanent pastor can be secured. The petitioners for the charter of the supreme council of the Servian society state that its aims are: "To support the orthodox faith in America; to give assistance to such of the members as may not be able to attend to their various avocations by reason of sickness; to bury the dead, to assist widows and orphans, and to promote the best interests of the Servians in this their adopted country."

LINEMEN'S STRIKE GROWS STRONGER

ERIE MEN GO OUT IN SYMPATHY AND NEW MEN JOIN UNION.

Trouble With Telephone Wires Threatens Great Annoyance to Several Big Business Interests — Payment of Strike Benefits Is Started.

Nothing in the way of a settlement move developed in the strike of the Pittsburgh linemen yesterday. The strike committee prevented a score and a half of men from starting work in the district. In two mass meetings yesterday the strikers revealed nothing but enthusiasm for their outlook.

A meeting of the executive board of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers is being arranged to take place at the Metropolitan hotel, Chicago, the latter part of this week to take action on the strikes which unions of the organization have on in different cities. R. W. Collier, the Pittsburgh strike leader, will attend the meeting, the exact date of which has not been fixed.

Strike at Erie.

At Erie yesterday the linemen employed by the Bell Telephone interests went on strike in sympathy with the Pittsburgh organization. The leaders here say that the men, 200 in number and organized as local No. 56, had been asked to take up the interrupted work here. To make their strike a real issue they demanded a wage rate of $3 for eight hours. They are now getting $2 50 for nine hours. Upon refusal to grant this the strike was started.

The linemen have a substantial treasury, their leaders report, and payment of strike benefits has been started. A plan is under advisement for the organization to foster, as partly co-operative interests, the starting of independent telephone systems. This may be taken up at the meeting of the executive board this week.

New Men Taken In.

At the mass meetings of the strikers yesterday a lot of new men were taken into the organization. At one of the large down-town office buildings a crew of new men was drawn off the work.

R. E. Collier, in charge of the strike, went up to a gang of 20 men who were about to take up important work for the Bell Telephone interest at East Liberty station yesterday morning. There was a large supply of coils and the men had their test sets with them. Collier demanded to know what was going on.

"We are going to work for the Bell people," declared one of the men.

"No, you will not; there is not a lineman working anywhere in Pittsburgh," said the strike leader.

"Well, then we won't work," said the spokesman of the party and the men broke away from Foreman Harry Sarver.

It was reported yesterday that detectives are working for the Power and Telephone companies in anticipation that strikers may cut some important cables. The strikers are indignant over this, declaring that they do not contemplate and will not tolerate any illegal moves by their men.

"We are certain to win by fair means," said one of the strikers.

Line Breaks Reported.

The Carnegie Steel Company telephone exchange broke down yesterday. Whether it will require linemen to repair the damage is uncertain, but if it does there will be difficulty in securing telephone connection for the great steel concern with the outside world. It was also reported last night that the Pennsylvania railroad telephone exchange was cut off from the central office and that an important cable of this interest had been broken.

L. F. Spence, vice president of the general brotherhood, who has been here for several days aiding the strikers, left last night for New York to take charge of a strike of local No. 20 against the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. The strike is on to establish the wage of other companies in New York.

CORPORATIONS IN ALLEGHENY ARE SLOW PAY

A Committee Appointed Last Night to Look Into the Question.

RAILROADS CONCERNED

Another Committee Was Appointed to Investigate the Ordinance to Increase the Pay of Policemen and Firemen—Indorsed by Supt. Muth.

John H. Trimble made rather a sensational statement to the finance committee of Allegheny councils at its regular monthly meeting last night, when he said that he had been informed by the city controller that a number of corporations in Allegheny had been in arrears to the city for from five to seven years, and that the amounts to which the city is justly entitled are large ones. Mr. Trimble made a motion that a committee be appointed to investigate the indebtedness of the several railways and other corporations to the city, and five men were designated to undertake the work. They are Messrs. Trimble, Goehring, Heer, Hendricks and Conner.

The first measure of importance to be considered by the committee was the ordinance increasing the salaries of policemen and firemen. Superintendent of Police Henry Muth was called to give his views on the ordinance, and he said without hesitation that he thought the increase should be granted. He said that the men are now receiving smaller pay than men in similar positions receive in cities of like size. He added that the rents and the price of food products in Allegheny are very high, and that the officers are obliged to work 10 hours a day and to pay for their uniforms. The ordinance was referred to a committee of three, with instructions to report at a special meeting of the general committee to be held Friday evening.

Ordinances fixing the salaries of chief clerk of the bureau of public works at $1,800 a year; chief clerk of the department of public safety at $1,800 a year; message clerk in the department of public safety at $1,200, and that of the ordinance officer at $1,200 a year were recommended affirmatively.

An affirmative recommendation was also made for an appropriation of $3,000 for the Presbyterian hospital and one for the appropriation of $1,000 for rent of playgrounds for school children.

THERMOMETER FELL 38 DEGREES IN 5 HOURS

Forecast Official Says That the Weather Today Will Be Even Worse Than Yesterday.

Another day of miserable weather like that of yesterday is predicted for Pittsburgh for today by the United States weather bureau. Colder atmosphere will accompany the snow and the heavy winter overcoat will be a handy article to bring to the city this morning, for during today the weather will not be of any one kind.

Rain began to fall yesterday afternoon and shortly before 6 o'clock turned into a driving wet snow. Up to midnight the snow and rainfall amounted to .06 of an inch. The snow melted as fast as it fell and little lakes were formed on the sidewalks, making walking miserable. Few people were to be seen on the streets last night, as, during the late afternoon, the indications were for more of the kind of weather which since spring came in has seemed to become a part of the town.

The cold spell set in about 3 o'clock and in the next hour the mercury fell six degrees. From 4 to 5 o'clock it fell nine degrees and from 5 to 8 o'clock the official thermometer registered a fall of 23 degrees.

FOUR MORE DEATHS.

FLORENCE, ALA., April 7.—Simon Simpson, a negro, was killed as the result of yesterday's tragedy at Tuscumbia. Simpson went into a butcher shop and began cursing all men who had participated in the killing, when he was ordered out by a white man named Walker. The negro refused to go and advanced on Walker, whom he struck over the head with a board. Whereupon Walker seized a butcher knife and hamstrung the negro in each leg and cut off the thumb of his right hand. The negro bled to death. Walker surrendered to the authorities.

TUSCUMBIA, ALA., April 7.—Three of the men who were wounded during the fight with Will Reynolds, the negro whom the officers attempted to arrest near here yesterday morning, and who was finally killed after a desperate struggle, have succumbed to their wounds and two others are not expected to survive through the day. Sheriff Gassoway, P. A. Prout and Jesse Davis died during the night; Will Gassoway and Payne, who were wounded, cannot survive the day. Finney's wound proved to be slight.

Manila's Cholera Record.

MANILA, April 7.—A total of 175 cases and 137 deaths from cholera were reported up to noon today. The natives are making great efforts to break the quarantine established here, and in so doing one native has been killed.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Reaches the Root of Every Female Trouble and Makes Our Women Strong and Vigorous.

It is a most regrettable fact, and calamity, too, that our women, young and old, are numbered amongst the most unhealthy of females in the civilized world. For delicacy of beauty, intellectual capacity and for all graces that adorn the sex, they stand peerless; but it is doubtful if one in ten can be found who is functionally and organically well.

This absence of feminine health and vigorous vitality is due to a neglect of nature's unerring laws. Immediate reformation is necessary if our nation would have women who will become true wives and mothers with an offspring that will prove a strength to the country.

For the special weaknesses to which women are now victims Paine's Celery Compound is the surest and safest remedy. The wonderful strengthening and building up properties of this marvelous prescription devised by that eminent medical expert, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., and its specific action in correcting disorders of the female organism, are well known to the medical profession and to the tens of thousands of women who have been raised from weakness and disease to health and physical happiness.

Paine's Celery Compound quickly gives the true health tint to sallow and bloodless faces; it gives life and light to the eyes; it gives pure, clean blood to course through the body; it gives natural appetite, sweet sleep and that blessed cheerfulness that is the delight of men. Try a bottle or two of Paine's Celery Compound, dear suffering and run down sister. Your condition, your family interests and the welfare of society demand this effort on your part.

DURHAM IS AS CLOSE-MOUTHED AS THE SPHINX

Result Is That Republicans in the East Are Kept Busy Guessing.

ROOMS OF PITTSBURGHERS

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 7.—Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham today developed the fact that Senator Quay is not the only political leader who is master of the art of silence. Col. Quay has been termed a "Sphynx" by those who sought information which he did not care to impart, but even that mute guardian of the mysteries of the pyramids was never more impregnable to the efforts of interviewers than was Mr. Durham when interrogated today regarding what transpired at the Washington conference Saturday.

"That is a matter I will not discuss," said the commissioner.

"What are the prospects?"

"Never mind the prospects," interrupted Mr. Durham. "I decline to pass my opinion upon the past, present or future."

Durham Is a Positive Character.

And that settled it. When Durham says "yes" it's "yes," and when he says "no" it's "no." And he does not swerve a hair's breadth from an outlined position. He does not agree with the eminent Ohio politician who said that "a lie is an intellectual method of meeting a difficulty."

It has been impossible for newspaper men to get in touch with Mr. Durham until today. He returned from Washington Sunday, but was inaccessible until this afternoon, when he was present at the organization of the new city councils. It is evident that Durham expects that any information to be given out will come from Senator Quay or his friends in Pittsburgh.

This may be delayed for some time, probably until after Col. Quay has again visited Pittsburgh and had another talk with the leaders there. The senator is going west this week.

No End of Speculation.

Speculation runs riot among local Republicans. The same may be said of those from up the state who visited Mr. Durham today in order to get a line on the "situation." Deputy Attorney General Fred Fleitz came over from Harrisburg. He saw Mr. Durham, but if he did not learn more than the others who called his report to Gov. Stone will not make a healthy postscript.

Those who have maintained that nothing could stop the nomination of John P. Elkin are greatly perplexed. Some contend that he will be the nominee, and all agree that he will be guided entirely by the advice of Quay, Durham and Penrose. Republicans are unanimous in the opinion that, whatever the result, an amicable understanding will be reached and that it will be one for the best interests of the party as a whole. Mr. Elkin is expected here Wednesday.

Pattison's Boost for Guffey.

Since ex-Gov. Pattison declared in The Gazette that Col. J. M. Guffey would be the unopposed Democratic candidate for United States senator in opposition to Senator Penrose, interest in Democratic circles has quickened. That the ex-governor was speaking with good judgment no one takes occasion to deny. Those who look for sub-surface indications believe that the Pattison interview was most opportune, in that it effectually frosted the aspirations of ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, who is Pattison's local rival for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Col. Guffey's reception of Mr. Pattison's prediction did not indicate personal displeasure. The colonel has not said that he would accept the caucus nomination for senator, neither has he manifested an intention to dodge the honor. Meanwhile Gov. Pattison has been making hay. He has been indorsed for governor by Crawford and Lycoming counties, and today Lebanon declared for him.

Lycoming's Action Significant.

The action in Lycoming was most significant. It is the home of Senator J. Henry Cochran, who has frequently been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor, but who has decided that he will accept another term in the senate. Senator Cochran is one of the most influential of the Democratic leaders. He is close to Col. Guffey and to Hon. William F. Harrity, and is in a position to successfully anticipate events.

Other counties, it is said, will rapidly fall in line for Pattison, and it looks as though he would go to Harrisburg with a majority of the delegates.

George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh is quite a favorite, but those who analyze say that the senatorial and gubernatorial candidates will not come from the same county. Ex-Democratic County Chairman C. A. Fagan of Pittsburgh is here. Mr. Fagan, who will be a delegate to the state convention, is instructed for Mr. Guthrie, who, he says, is the logical candidate.

Fagan Shouts for Guthrie.

"I am with Guthrie to a finish," said Mr. Fagan tonight. "There is a general demand for reform in state and municipal affairs. It's in the air and Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania are ablaze with it. The general belief is that if Attorney General Elkin is nominated by the Republicans the next governor will be a Democrat. Our party has no more available man than George W. Guthrie. He scored some telling points in the recent contest in Pittsburgh. In all matters pertaining to the ballot and municipal betterment Mr. Guthrie has been a prominent factor. He typifies more strongly than any one I know the reform principles for which the people are now contending. I hope he will be nominated. If he is there would be no doubt of his election."

Some Democrats Want Fusion.

The Lehigh Democratic county committee today indorsed Robert E. Wright for governor. Mr. Wright was present and he announced that he would not accept the nomination under any circumstances. The committee then rescinded its action and the delegation will go to Harrisburg uninstructed.

The Montgomery Democratic county committee also met today. It established a precedent by declaring for fusion with the anti-Quay Republicans in its selection for candidates for governor. The delegates have not been appointed, but they will be instructed to effect fusion if possible.

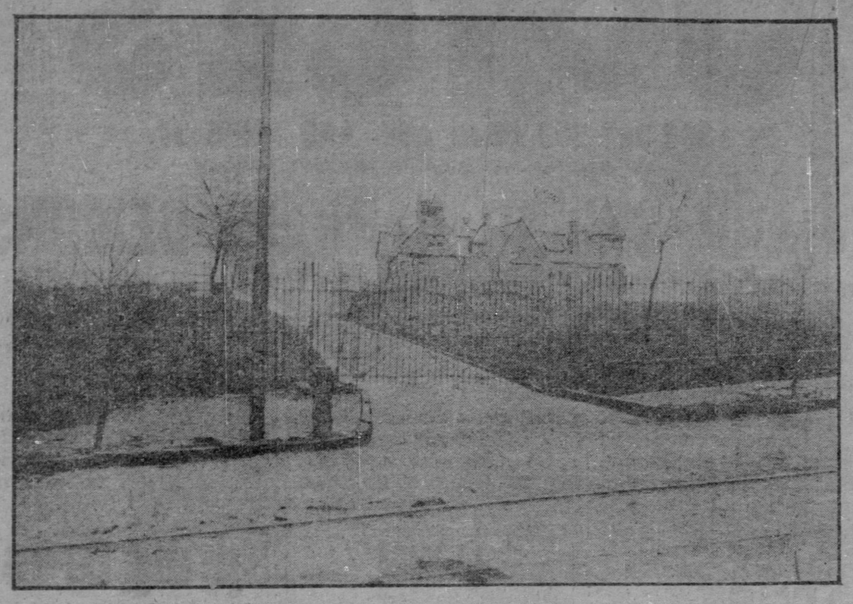
M'CONWAY HOMESTEAD MAY BE PITTSBURGH MARINE HOSPITAL



View of the McConway Homestead From Bedford Avenue.

The government authorities are beginning active preparations for the building of the proposed new Marine hospital, for which an appropriation of $125,000 has been granted Pittsburgh by congress. One site has been inspected by representatives of the war department. It is the old McConway homestead, fronting in Bedford avenue, between Morgan and Brant streets, near the summit of the Herron avenue hill.

The property has been unoccupied, except by a caretaker, for several years, but house and grounds are in excellent condition. A proposition has already been made to the government, the purchase price named being $50,000. The property is four acres in extent and fronts over 300 feet in Bedford avenue. The house is a handsome one, built in the Elizabethan style, having over 100 feet front, with 22 rooms, one of them large enough to accommodate a ward of 20 or 30 patients.

A board of viewers will probably be named by the department in the next few weeks to select a site for the institution. The total expenditure authorized by the government is $125,000. Of this the present appropriation bill, now pending in congress, provides for an immediate expenditure of $60,000.

Mr. William McConway said last night that the Bedford avenue property was for sale, and that the plan to make it a site for the new hospital had been suggested, but he refused to say how far the negotiations had progressed. Some time ago a plan was put on foot to attach the Bedford avenue property to West Penn hospital, which is situated just over the hill, and use it as a convalescent annex. The project was abandoned, however.

Dr. F. W. Mead, the marine surgeon in charge in Pittsburgh, said yesterday that he had nothing to do with the selection of a site for the new hospital. The new institution is badly needed, however, according to his statements. During the past winter the marine patients in the different city hospitals have averaged 65 a month. The new hospital, Dr. Mead thinks, should have provision for at least 100 patients. "The recent hospitals built by the government," said Dr. Mead, "have nearly all been on the pavilion plan. If one is built here I suppose that will be the style of architecture adopted."

Dr. Mead favors the portion of the Lawrenceville arsenal grounds lying between Penn avenue and Butler streets for the hospital site. "It is easy of access," said he, "and I believe the government would give it to us for hospital purposes. The war department has always been very liberal that way. At the Presidio camp, just outside of San Francisco, we received a government grant of a site for a new marine hospital."

Under the statutes of Pennsylvania no hospital can be erected in the built-up portions of a city. This may have considerable to do with the final decision on a site. It is one of the reasons given by those who advocate the Bedford avenue property.

MUCH BOOTY RECOVERED

Others Implicated in an Audacious Robbery Will Soon Be Captured.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., April 7.—Three members of the famous "Train gang," so named because of its conection with the audacious robbery of Pennsylvania railroad freight trains between this city and Three Culverts, two miles west of here, on January 25, when a car was broken open in broad daylight, while the train was at full speed, the merchandise being tossed off and secured by confederates, was run to earth today.

Those arrested are: William Plowden, Emma Plowden and Laura Crane, all colored. They were found living in a dilapidated old planing mill building in the northern part of the city. A quantity of the stolen goods, including linen, hats and trouser goods were found concealed in the mill.

Other arrests will follow, as officers have damaging information against several others.

Verdict of Not Guilty in the First Trial of Wheeling Officials Recently Indicted.

WHEELING, W. VA., April 7.—The first of the councilmanic bribery trials, arising out of the indictment of 10 members of the second branch and of Chief of the Fire Department Robert D. The principal witnesses were Shafer and Cline, and the latter denied the councilman's allegations in toto. The jury was out but three minutes and returned a verdict of "not guilty." Wednesday the 10 indicted councilmen will enter their pleas and their trials will follow shortly.

MINERS REFUSE TO ACCEPT TERMS OFFERED

PRESENT A FIRM FRONT

Conference at Punxsutawney With Manager Robinson Useless.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., April 7.—No settlement has been reached between the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron Company and their 10,000 miners who are on strike. The district officials of the United Mine Workers of America and the delegates representing the miners of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron Company, who met General Manager Robinson at Punxsutawney this afternoon, repudiated the Indianapolis agreement entered into by President Mitchell, the national executive board and Mr. Robinson, and the strike will be continued. The miners are well organized, are acting in harmony and present a firm front.

The delegates assembled today in full knowledge of what was to be offered. Robinson agreed to sign the scale adopted two weeks ago, take out the big cars the men have refused to push, and lay metal rails in place of the wooden ones now in use. The men refused to accept the concessions, declaring that they were in fact only a subterfuge to get the men back to work.

The leaders declared that they do not object to large cars, as these enable them to get out more coal, and that small cars would simply decrease their output. "We want the big cars, but we want the mules to draw them," is the way a district official put it tonight. "We intend to stay out if it takes all summer to secure our rights." The only thing accomplished by the conference was making the men firmer in their demand.

BUYERS PAYING YET MORE MONEY FOR LIVE STOCK

Advance of From 10 to 20 Cents Per Hundred Took Place Yesterday.

DRESSED MEATS HIGHER

Retail Dealers Say That the Real Sufferer from the High Prices Is the Wage Earner and That the Combination Caused the Trouble.

There was a raise of from 10 to 20 cents per hundred weight on all kinds of live stock yesterday at the East Liberty stock yards, with shipments light. The top price on cattle was $7 a hundred weight, $7.20 on hogs and $7.14 on sheep. These figures and those wired from Chicago verified the prediction in The Gazette yesterday that the week would open with higher prices in the local and western live stock yard markets. Prime cattle brought as high as $7.25 in Chicago.

Light shipments were reported both at home and in the western markets. In all the western markets, including Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis and Sioux City, the combined shipments of cattle yesterday amounted to 30,500 head of cattle, 36,500 hogs and 23,100 sheep.

Higher Prices for Dressed Meat.

Although higher live stock prices prevailed everywhere the western packers refrained from carrying out their announced intention of making another increase in the price of dressed beef. The managers of the western packers gave out yesterday that there would not be another raise this week, but admitted that beef would go up still higher within a short time.

Dressed beef was quoted at 10½ cents, the same as last week. Pork was quoted at 11¾ cents, however, which was half a cent advance over the last week. Mutton also sold for 10½ cents, which was half a cent higher than last week.

The belief was general among the butchers yesterday that there would be no further advance in the prices of meats until the agitation against the beef combination subsides.

Question Taken to Washington.

The matter was brought to the attention of President Roosevelt and Attorney General Knox, as well as to the general public, and in almost every city of the country there is a strong, active sentiment against the alleged inflation of meat values.

Managers of the combination in Pittsburgh still insist that prices will start upwards again and that before June beef, pork and mutton will be several cents higher than it is now. The exposure of the operations of the alleged beef combination in New York is attracting the earnest attention of the western managers in this city.

One of the local managers in discussing the revelations made by a New York paper yesterday admitted that the charges were based on fact.

Agreement an Old One.

P. L. Hughes, the author of the letters published, which he claims were purloined from an old letter book, was formerly manager for Cudahy & Co. in this city, and is now a city salesman in Omaha. The alleged agreement provides for the regulation of prices by the several houses in the combination and the levying of penalties for the violation of said agreement.

Copies of letters published also show that the packing firms have an arbitrator in New York whose duties consist in making up the weekly list of butchers who are delinquent to any of the houses in the combination and enforcing the provisions of the alleged agreement formed for their mutual protection and advantage.

The superintendent of one of the western houses in Pittsburgh was asked yesterday if the western houses had an arbitrator in this city, and he replied: "No. We are all arbitrators."

The Combine Defended.

A packing house representative in defending the so-called meat combination yesterday said that it was no secret that the western houses had combined for their own protection to save each other from the injurious effect of price-cutting and to guard against losses from credits given to dealers. He claimed that the packers were justified in demanding weekly settlements with butchers, as the packers themselves were compelled to pay spot cash for live stock in the markets. He said also that unless such measures were taken the packers would be unable to make collections, as the majority of butchers owned little outside of their implements and the meat stock with which they supply their customers from day to day.

The ordinary wage-earner is the one who is suffering most from the high prices in meat. Butchers say that many of this class have been compelled to reduce their meat purchases to a large degree, and many cannot buy meat at all at present prices. Even the rough meats which the poor man could afford to buy have doubled almost in price. Boiling meat, which sold formerly for 6 cents a pound, is now bringing 8 to 12½ cents. Liver, which is largely consumed by the buyer with limited purse, has advanced from 5 to 8 cents.

Butchers say that meats are higher than at any time since 1882. "In the winter of 1881-2 the excessive cold killed many cattle," said a butcher yesterday. "This was followed by drought in the summer of 1882 which burned the crops and the grass upon which the cattle grazed.

The Butcher's Story.

"The effect was a natural increase in the prices of meat. Neither of these causes are responsible for the present condition of the market. Very little home-dressed beef is sold in Pittsburgh. Seven-eighths of the meat sold here is bought from the western packers. Every butcher in Pittsburgh and Allegheny is simply an agent for the beef trust, and they have us where the hair is short, as we cannot compete with them in either the dressed meat or the live stock markets."

Stockmen in the eastern section of the state claim that the western packers are making extraordinary efforts to gain control of the Philadelphia market by sending agents to Lancaster and other stock-raising counties to buy up all the cattle in sight. More than 75,000 are said to be killed annually in Philadelphia, where there has been a healthy independent supply.

This number will be materially reduced this year by reason of the inroads made by the western packers. The western packers are said to be shipping east or stabling in western yards the stock purchased in Pennsylvania instead of killing and selling in this state.

By this means stockmen say the western packers are cutting off the supplies of the independent provision dealers in this state and giving their agents a clear field to sell the combination product. Local stockmen and commission merchants state that frequent purchases of live stock are made at the East Liberty yards by the agents of the western packers, but the managers of the western branch houses here deny this emphatically.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—(Special.)—Two classes of local meat dealers have organized themselves into protective associations to make a stand against the meat trust. The former is composed of those butchers who make a specialty of city dressed meats and the latter of those meat stores handling western dressed meats almost exclusively. They claim that it is the consumer who pays the immense profits the beef trust reaps every year, and that within the past ten years the price on all grades of meats has almost doubled and the end is not in sight. There are 200 retail meat stores already in the alliance and their owners claim that they are charged with the weight of the beef in Chicago, although there is considerable shrinkage in transit.

NO AVAILABLE FUNDS TO FIGHT THE SMALLPOX

Dr. Rinehart of the State Board of Health Says That He Is Helpless.

EPIDEMIC IS VERY SERIOUS

Statement Is Made That the Disease Is Widely Scattered and That It May Take a More Serious Form at Any Time.

"The state board of health is helpless until it gets money from some source. An effort will be made to do this within the coming week, but I doubt whether it will be successful."

That was the defense made last night by Dr. Stanley M. Rinehart, county agent of the state board, for the failure of that body to adopt radical measures for the suppression of the smallpox epidemic that has been spreading through the country surrounding Pittsburgh. The state board, Dr. Rinehart, declares, is without any funds with which to establish quarantines or investigate reported epidemics. Until money is secured such episodes as that of last Sunday, when a negro from one of the Wabash railroad camps strolled through two or three of Pittsburgh's principal downtown streets asking the way to the city physician's office for treatment for a well developed case of smallpox, cannot well be prevented.

"Whether by design or by accident," said Dr. Rinehart, "the last state legislature failed to grant the state board any appropriation for an emergency fund for fighting smallpox and other serious epidemics. The fund we drew on in former years is now completely exhausted—and we cannot conduct quarantines on wind. An effort is to be made within the next few days to bring the matter before the governor in the hope that he can find some other state fund that can be drawn on for this emergency. If the governor can furnish such a solution the state board can take up this smallpox question in earnest.

"The truth is that the present epidemic is much more serious than most people realize. It is widely scattered—it is all about Pittsburgh—and the local boards are making very little effort to combat it. The danger lies in the mild form in which the disease has developed.

"But the disease may take a more severe form at any time. A few weeks of the same lax precautions and we will be in a bad way throughout Western Pennsylvania."

The Angelus Orchestral Piano Player

The fact that the Angelus costs more than any other piano player makes it all the more desirable to those who can tell the reason why.

The difference between the price of the Angelus and that of the next best piano player hardly indicates the difference in the quality of the music rendered. The Angelus is so much superior to all other piano players that it is unique. It does all that the others can—and very much more.

Get the best.

Handsome Wraps for the Opera.

We've told of the Opera costumes ready in our second floor Women's Suit department.

This morning a few words, if you please, relative to stylish wraps, a very important accompaniment of the opera costume.

This being a novelty season this Wrap department is full of novelties. There are redingotes, paletots, automobiles, the new DuBarry and other effective styles in silk, peau de soie, pongee, canvas, curiously woven cotton stuffs, besides all the staple cloths that usually go into coats.

The collection is a fine one—extremely fine. Inexpensive but prepossessing wraps up to models as fine as any woman could wish.

The matter of a fashionable wrap resolves itself into a mere question of personal taste when the variety shown in this second floor Wrap department is consulted.

We have all the reliable makes in all shapes and leathers—priced from $1 to $10.

WRIST BAGS—Quite in favor just now and they are sure to increase in popularity. The usefulness of chatelaine and pocketbook combined. All leathers and colors—75c to $13.50 each.

New Belts for Women.

A greater belt season than last—and it was big. All the correct and good ideas that American and foreign manufacturers have made for Spring and Summer, 1902.

Plain tailor-made fabric Belts—silk, satin, moire, peau de soie, barathea and linen—small neat metal buckles—all sizes in black and white—50c each.

Satin and moire Belts—girdle style—ornamented with scroll-like pieces of delicately wrought silver plate—half a hundred styles to select from—$1 to $6 each.

Elastic Girdles from France, ornamented with cut-steel ornaments—being "on the stretch" they cling perfectly to the figure—$3.50 to $19.00 each.

White kid Belts for white waists—smartest thing of the season. We show a large variety of up-to-date widths and shapes. 25c to $1 each.

Leather Belts, neat tailor-made patterns—seal, walrus and patent leather—more belt goodness than any one ever saw for the same money—25c to $1 each.

Popular Priced Suits for Women.

The two styles at $19.50 are the best efforts we ever came across for such a little bit of money. Both styles are silk lined clear through.

The blouse style is made of blue and black cheviot in a Spring weight. Blouse has new fitted hip piece and notched collar; the skirt flounce style over drop. Both skirt and blouse trimmed with moire bands.

The Eton style is made of Panama suiting, in tan, green and blue. Eton finished with vest and stitched collar of taffeta. The skirt is both gored and flared and is arranged over drop.

Another very popular priced suit is one made of basket weave etamine—black and blue. The Eton has moire vest and collar; flounce skirt over drop. The price is $24.50.

For $28, $30, $35, $40, $45 and $50—there is choice of cheviot, broadcloth, etamine in all its various weaves as well as various other materials. The styles are blouse, eton and jacket.

We have new Walking Suits in same styles, of such cloths as melton, cheviot, homespuns and English stripes and checks—gored, flounced and pleated skirts, and the prices are $15, $20, $22, $25 and on up to $48.

New Walking Skirts of same materials, to which may be added covert and Panama cloths, $5, $7.50, $8.50 and up to $25.

Featherbone—A Demonstration.

Not at the store, however—please have that before you; but at the Hotel Lincoln—room 808—tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. Two experienced operators will be there with New York models to show how Featherbone is used.

Featherbone is manufactured by the Warren Featherbone Co., and is gradually crowding out all other material for stays, on account of its superb elasticity, good wearing qualities and the easy manner with which it is adjusted.

It is made with Moire, Prussian, Satin, Gros Grain Silk or Cotton covering, or without covering.

In addition to the regular bone for the waist this company makes such specialties as Hook and Eye bone, Skirt bone, Bustle bone, Eyelet bone, Cable bone and Piping bone.

A cordial invitation to attend—to all women interested.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO KILL TREPOFF

Third Trial to Assassinate Moscow's Unpopular Prefect of Police

RESULTED IN FAILURE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, April 7.—The Tageblatt this evening publishes a dispatch from St. Petersburg, dated Sunday, April 6, which reports a third attempt to assassinate Gen. Trepoff, the prefect of police of Moscow.

While the general was out driving a man, supposed to be a rusticated student, sprang on the step of his carriage and tried to stab him, but only succeeded in wounding a policeman who was seated beside him. The would-be assassin was arrested.

It is believed there is a widespread conspiracy against the prefect of police.

ROYAL BICYCLISTS WERE ABRUPTLY HALTED

Prince Henry of Prussia Has an Experience With a Policeman and Will Probably Be Fined.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, April 7.—Prince and Princess Henry, who are visiting the grand duke of Hesse, have been doing a good deal of bicycle riding in the environs of Darmstadt.

While out last Friday the prince, the princess and their host left the muddy wagonway for a footpath where the bicycling was easier. Riding on this footway is forbidden by police regulations. They had proceeded but a short way when a policeman jumped out from a hedge, halted them and sharply questioned the grand duke.

The duke named his companions as Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia. The policeman calmly requested details of identification. When all three members of the party had answered him satisfactorily he permitted them to proceed, saying that, according to the regulations, he would report the matter at headquarters. It is likely that the usual fine of seven marks will be collected from the royal bicyclers.

Kitchener's Estimate of Boer Losses.

LONDON, April 7.—Lord Kitchener reports that the Boer casualties during the engagements of March 31 and April 1, were, at the lowest estimate, 59 killed and 80 wounded. Commandant Erasmus was killed near Bosehof, Orange River Colony, April 3.

Ambassador Tower Traveling.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 7.—Charlemagne Tower, the United States ambassador to Russia, will start from this city for Lausanne, Switzerland, tomorrow. Later he will leave for the United States and expects to reach Washington early in May.

Conference of Anarchists in May.

BERLIN, April 7.—A federation of revolutionary laborers, working in the name of the German anarchists, is distributing a mysterious circular calling for an anarchist conference for the third week in May.

RHODES AND STEAD WERE WARM FRIENDS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, April 7.—The fact that W. T. Stead's name was not among the executors of Cecil Rhodes' will has given rise to some comment, for it was generally understood that he was closely associated with those designated to carry out Mr. Rhodes' aspirations.

In order to dispel any misapprehensions B. A. Hawksley, who was counsel for Mr. Rhodes, declares in an open letter that the removal of Mr. Stead's name was not in any way due to differences on the subject of the South African war, but arose from other causes quite appreciated by Mr. Stead, and which did honor to both men.

"In the far back days," writes Mr. Hawksley, "when Mr. Stead expounded the common interests of the English-speaking peoples, his acquaintance was sought by Mr. Rhodes; the acquaintanceship ripened into close intimacy and continued to the last. Mr. Rhodes recognized in Mr. Stead one who thought as he did, and who had the marvelous gift of enabling him to clothe with literary charm the ideas they both held dear. As Mr. Rhodes frequently said to me and others, including Mr. Stead himself, the friendship of the two men was too strong to be broken by passing differences about the South African war."

KRITZINGER IS ACQUITTED.

Boer Commandant Charged With Many Crimes Cleared by Court-Martial.

LONDON, April 7.—A dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, says Commandant Kritzinger, who was captured by Gen. French at Hanover Road, Cape Colony, December 17 last, and who has been tried by court-martial on the charge of having committed four murders, in addition to train wrecking and cruelty to prisoners, has been acquitted, and is being well treated as an ordinary prisoner of war.

Misleading Rosebery Report.

LONDON, April 7.—The report that Lord Rosebery is going to South Africa at the request of King Edward is received with no credence. It probably arose from the fact that Lord Rosebery's son, Lord Dalmeny, is joining his regiment at the front. Lord Rosebery is at present in Naples.

Visitors from England Are Coming.

LONDON, April 5.—Vice Admiral Sir Henry Holdsworth Rawson, formerly in command of the channel squadron and Lady Rawson, and Sir Richard Musgrave and Lady Musgrave, will be among the passengers on the Teutonic, which sails from Liverpool, April 9, for New York.

Decreases in England's Trade.

LONDON, April 7.—Board of trade returns for March show the remarkable decreases of £5,528,195 in imports, and £2,804,053 in exports, compared with March 1901. This is attributed mainly to the abnormal clearances of last year, in anticipation of the new duties.

Government Pressed for Information Upon the Reassembling of Parliament.

BULLER DISPUTE AGAIN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, April 7.—The house of commons reassembled today after the Easter recess. An early opportunity was taken to press the government for information on the subject of the peace negotiations in South Africa but the government leader, A. J. Balfour, declared the ministers had nothing, in that connection, to impart to the house.

Answering a question about the Gen. Buller controversy, the war secretary, Mr. Brodrick, said that in view of the recent statement of Mr. Balfour it had been decided to publish all papers and dispatches relating to the Spion Kop engagement forwarded to the war office by Lord Roberts. The order forbidding Gen. Buller to publish the documents would not, however, be rescinded.

Mr. Balfour refused to grant facilities for the discussion of the motion made by John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, censuring Speaker William Court Gully in connection with the suspension of John Dillon.

In correspondence between Mr. Balfour and Gen. Buller, recently published, the former contended that Gen. Buller was in chief command at the battle of Spion Kop, which resulted most disastrously to the British, while Buller denied this.

REBELS RAIDED JACMEL.

Haitian Revolutionists Made a Successful Attack.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, HAITI, April 7.—A number of revolutionists, commanded by Gen. Nicolas Baptiste, attacked and captured Jacmel, a town on the south coast of Haiti, on Saturday, occupied that town for 24 hours, released the persons who had been imprisoned there and then retired to the hills, taking with them all the arms and ammunition they could obtain. During the fighting two men were killed and a number wounded.

The Haitian cruiser Crete-a-Pierot has started for Jacmel, with arms and ammunition, and Minister of War Guilliaume has also left for Jacmel with a detachment of troops.

THE SHAH TO VISIT WILLIAM.

No Political Significance Attaches to the Visit of Persia's Court.

BERLIN, April 7.—Official circles confirm the report that the Shah of Persia will visit Berlin in May and pay his respects to Emperor William. The Shah is going to Contrexeville, France, for his health, and inquired of the authorities at Berlin whether his visit would be acceptable to his majesty, who answered affirmatively.

The visit is devoid of political significance, and the assertions in the British press that Germany is endeavoring to establish her influence in Persia, between the British and Russian rivalries in that country, is repudiated.

ACTION ON WABASH ORDINANCE NOW IN ORDER

RAILROAD MEN HERE FOR TWO MEETINGS

B. & O. Time Card and Ohio Lines Charges for Fuel Coal Causes of the Gatherings.

Two important meetings of railroad officials were held in this city yesterday. Baltimore & Ohio passenger officials met at the Hotel Lincoln to consider the spring changes in the time cards of the whole system. Present were D. B. Martin, manager of passenger traffic; B. N. Austin, general passenger agent, Chicago; C. W. Bassett, general passenger agent Pittsburgh & Western lines; O. P. McCarthy, general passenger agent Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern; M. G. Carrell, general passenger agent Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling; George de Haven, excursion agent; W. E. Loyes, advertising agent; E. D. Smith, district passenger agent Pittsburgh; F. P. Copper, traveling passenger agent, Newark, O.; J. T. Lane, traveling passenger agent, Wheeling, and L. G. Smith, traveling passenger agent, Parkersburg.

The situation was gone over and preparations made for faster schedules. The restoration of the old runs of trains 3 and 4 of the Pittsburgh & Western from Allegheny to Akron was recommended by Mr. Bassett, on account of the removal of trains 9 and 10 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

Today and tomorrow the sessions of the passenger men will continue in Chicago, and Thursday a general conference between both passenger and operating officials will be held here, lasting at least one full day. The meeting will be held at the Monongahela house. About 30 officials from all parts of the system will attend.

The second railroad meeting was held at the general offices of the Pennsylvania lines. Its object was to settle for the coming year the rates on fuel coal by Ohio roads on their own lines. Nothing of public interest developed.

Fuller Not After West Side Belt.

Chief Engineer J. H. McRoberts of the West Side belt railroad said yesterday that the Fuller syndicate, one of the bidders for the Western Maryland, has not made and will not make any attempt to secure the West Side belt in case of that syndicate's bid for the Western Maryland being accepted. He thought the chances of the Varney syndicate of securing the road are very small now, but said that an arrangement would have been made for using the West Side belt if it won out. The West Side belt is therefore again relegated to a doubtful future, although its value as far as terminal facilities are concerned is well understood. Its use by the Wabash in the event of a line from Pittsburgh to Cumberland being constructed is not in sight, Mr. McRoberts says.

Youngstown Desires New Coal Road

Rapid work is being done on the extension of the Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad into the Jefferson county, O., coal fields. Trains are to be running into Dillonvale by early summer, according to the builders. At Dillonvale connection will be made with the Wheeling & Lake Erie and a new route from Wheeling to Thanank will be opened. It is rumored that the independent steel manufacturers of the Mahoning valley, especially of Youngstown, are trying to bring the road into that city to establish another connection with Lake Erie for ore and to furnish another coal supply line. There are several large steel companies of Youngstown that would welcome this opportunity, if it can be made possible.

Model Box Cars Building Here.

Among the cars now being built at the works of the Pressed Steel Car Company in this city are 1,000 box cars for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, which are distinguished by the fact that they are among the first, if not the first, to be built according to the specifications of the American Railway association. These specifications were adopted within the past year by the association and recommended for general use on all railroads. The model cars' inside length is 36 feet, width 8½ feet and clear height 8 feet. The cars have box trucks with 6x9-inch journals, 650-pound wheels, gravity side-bearings, steel underframes and wooden side and end frames.

Railroad Notes.

The headquarters of General Freight Agent J. B. Hill of the Panhandle will be removed to this city from Columbus, O., next Monday. Delay in making ready their offices has prevented the removal so far.

Assistant Engineer Charles P. McArthur of the Maryland division of the Pennsylvania railroad has been transferred to Buffalo, and will likely be succeeded at Wilmington by Franklin Duane of Clayton.

CAMPAIGN PROMISES SHOULD BE MADE GOOD

Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson Speaks Plainly on Situation—Contracts to Be Let This Week.

"It is now up to the new councils of Pittsburgh to show the reality of their intentions announced during the campaign in regard to the Wabash," said Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson of the Wabash extension yesterday. "The Wabash is going forward with all possible rapidity in its work of construction into Pittsburgh. The last doubt of the bona fide nature of the plan vanished many months ago. Now the same system has gone ahead with arrangements for a seaboard connection in the Western Maryland, and it looks like a new seaboard line for Pittsburgh. The time will soon come for starting work in Pittsburgh proper. It would avoid all the waste of time of legal proceedings to have the needful franchises granted the company at once, so that no delay whatsoever may hinder the plans."

Mr. Patterson said that the awards of contracts for the 20 miles of the road from Mingo junction to Jewett, O., will be made the latter part of this week. The delay was occasioned by the determination at the last moment to change the line from single to double track. The bridges and tunnels, as bid for, were to be double track, but only single track grading was asked for. As now planned the entire line from Pittsburgh to Jewett will be two tracks wide and the work of widening the Wheeling & Lake Erie to two tracks is already under way at several points on that road.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

HASTING, NEB.
"Our little boy, Harry, had spasms for 3 years and we feared the disease would affect his mind. Though we doctored continually he grew worse and had ten spasms in one week. Our attention was directed to Dr. Miles' Nervine and we began its use. When he had taken the fourth bottle the spasms disappeared and he has not had one for five years. His health now is perfect." NOTWITH STANDING

The many things said about "Home" pianos, you know a "Home" piano (whatever that may mean) is a piano found in Homes. If there are three thousand six hundred homes in Pittsburgh and vicinity containing each an then the OPERA piano is a Home piano; in other words, a good piano, and that's what we understand a Home piano to be. There is nothing mysterious about it, provided you think it out yourself. A good Piano is a Home piano, therefore the Opera is a Home piano—3,600 of 'em so far. Knabe, Miller, Ivers & Pond, Opera, Straube, Crown, Clark pianos. APOLLO Piano Player.

I have been using Ripans Tabules for nearly a year and have derived a great benefit from them. I had suffered with stomach trouble and dizziness when going to bed at night. Seeing that the Ripans Tabules relieved me, I continued the use of them to the present time, and my stomach is now in good condition and the dizziness has left me.

TWELVE PAGES

The Popular Will and Select Council.

It is shown by a comparative table in our news columns that the will of the people in the election of a presiding officer of select council was defeated by those hold-over members of the body whose wards gave majorities for the Citizens party ticket. T. O. Atkinson, Evan Jones, John A. Murphy, W. J. Rothweiler, W. E. Sankey, Charles Stewart and J. H. Voskamp voted for Mr. Lambie for president of select council, notwithstanding the fact that their wards gave majorities for the head of the Citizens ticket ranging from 160 to 1,537, and elected Citizens members of common council. Had these seven members voted as their constituents directed, James J. Booth, the Citizens party representative, would have been chosen president of the select branch with votes to spare, and both branches of councils would have then been organized in accordance with the will of the people.

In this connection particular attention is directed to one of the seven and to one other member of the select branch. Evan Jones, whose ward gave 160 majority for the Citizens party ticket, is shown to have pledged himself to obey the will of the people by voting for James J. Booth for president of select council and to use his "best endeavors to accomplish his election." The name of John J. Paul, whose ward gave a small majority for Lawis, but defeated the machine candidates for councils at the primaries, appears first among those of the signers to this pledge. Yet the votes of Paul and Jones were cast against Booth, and these two elected his opponent. What influence was brought to bear to cause them to violate their pledges and defy the popular will may be only guessed at now, but that they did so is a matter of record.

It will be remembered that when the reform charter bill was first presented at Harrisburg it provided for the election of the members of select council on a general ticket, a beneficent provision that would have given the city an upper branch of the municipal legislative assembly representative of the majority sentiment of the citizens. Unfortunately for the friends of good government the bill was blue-pencilled and revised by Gov. Stone, and the old plan of electing members of select council by wards thereby left unchanged. How this has worked against the reform that was sought in the charter legislation is now shown. It is plain that something more than a mere error was made in the alteration of the original charter, and that unless members of select council are to be elected on a general ticket it would be better to abolish the body entirely.

Austria Grows Wiser.

The resumption of diplomatic relations between Austria and Mexico is an international incident of some moment. Relations between those countries were severed in 1868 by the trial, conviction and execution of Maximilian, who had been sent from Austria to be emperor of Mexico. It is quite apparent that Austria was deeply pained by the events of that time, but it is a hopeful sign that Capt. Prapotnik was sent in the Szigetvar to reopen diplomatic courtesies after 34 years of estrangement.

Austria has cherished a bitter feeling toward the United States during all the time it has not been on speaking terms with Mexico—a sentiment born of the relation of the Monroe doctrine to the misfortunes of Maximilian. Austria has been ever ready to propose or to join movements directed against this country, or the Monroe doctrine, the fact having been flaunted conspicuously at the time of the war with Spain and more recently in the suggestion of a European tariff union against America.

We may take it that Austria's friendly advances to Mexico betoken a change of attitude, if not of feeling, toward this hemisphere. The colossal progress of the United States, accompanied by the rivalry of the great powers of Europe for American friendship, must have convinced Austrian statesmanship of the futility of any scheme of revenge. The Austrian government is probably also convinced that its only salvation is to follow the lead of stronger nations and begin cultivating friendly intercourse with the irrepressible republics of the west. Evidences of this are the resumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico and the elevation of the Austrian legation at Washington to the rank of an embassy.

Harmony Conferences.

Politicians and their newspaper organs of the kind that cannot conceive of political arrangements except upon the basis of personal "deals," naturally misunderstand the purport of recent conferences. They cannot distinguish between solicitude in behalf of party interests and the pursuit of personal ends, and hence all conferences look alike to them. This attitude of thought presents the greatest danger now confronting the Republican party, and until the idea that the party difficulties may be adjusted by placating individuals by offers of office or patronage is thoroughly dissipated and all efforts based upon that idea are completely abandoned, the risk of party defeat will continue. They are dense, indeed, who see in the uprising of February last simply a bid for consideration on the part of personal interests, the conciliation of which will obviate all trouble. It was against that very system of deals "for mutual political and business advantage" that the uprising took place, and the only basis upon which party harmony and efficiency can be restored is satisfaction of the public demands so emphatically voiced at the municipal election.

To secure the full recognition of this situation The Gazette is laboring, and it will continue to do so by every means in its power, whether by public appeal or by conference with party leaders, but the public may rest assured that The Gazette will not be a party to any deals. The way to restore public confidence in the Republican party is by making the Republican party deserving of public confidence, by meeting fully and frankly the public demand for removal of abuses, correction of methods and improvement in administration. The Gazette has formulated specific demands for reform, upon which it will continue to insist. If the machine politicians imagine that the old system and the old methods can be continued, upon any terms whatever, they are preparing fresh defeats for their party.

Able to Pay the Price.

Unquestionably the prices of some building materials have advanced, so it will cost more to build a house this year than last. This is a natural result of disappearing forests and brisk demand for other materials that are in moderate supply. But it may be noted that building supply men refuse to take lugubrious views of the matter. The demand in Pittsburgh and vicinity is for the best the market can afford, regardless of price. Many home-builders, in fact, find their purses long enough to seek novelties and original effects at far greater cost than even the best of ordinary stone, brick, mortar or woods. Pittsburgh is highly prosperous and likely to continue so indefinitely.

American Trade Secrets.

The idea of establishing a French industrial school in America is receiving so much opposition at home that it would not be surprising if the project were killed outright. Not a single French manufacturer, we are told, is interested in the project. Those who are not actively hostile to its establishment look with indifference upon its institution. A committee of manufacturers from the great industrial region of the Nord has gone to Paris to represent to the government that legislation favoring the working men is crushing the life out of national industry. That, of course, is a subject which only concerns the industrial situation in France.

One of the manufacturers told the Paris correspondent of the London Times that the "Yankees are not fools enough to impart anything likely to build up rivalry in Europe." That is the great mistake under which ill-informed manufacturers in Europe are laboring. They imagine that we are possessed of some occult secrets which we are guarding with the jealousy of wizards. Nothing could be further from the facts. The secrets of our success lie upon the surface of our industrial life. He who runs may read them. There is no country in the world which has fewer "trade secrets."

A World's Fair Problem.

Notwithstanding emphatic denials, several months ago, of reports that the opening of the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis would be postponed until 1904, there is now a strong probability that such action will be taken. John Barrett, commissioner general to Asia for the exposition, has made public some facts hitherto not generally known and which of themselves are powerful arguments in favor of postponement.

It appears that nearly all of the foreign governments have declared that it will be impossible for them to make creditable displays at St. Louis in 1903, but if deferred until the following year they will endeavor to surpass their exhibitions at the world's fairs held in Chicago and Paris. As the St. Louis exposition is intended to be international in its scope expectations will be sadly disappointed if the foreign nations do not participate to the extent feared. On the other hand, American pride is involved in the ambition to complete and open the exposition at the date originally determined upon and it will be a severe disappointment to the promoters of the St. Louis fair if, through no fault of their own, they shall be compelled to defer the opening until a year later. The problem resolves itself into a question of an incomplete exposition in 1903 or a real world's fair in 1904, and, viewing it in this light, postponement seems to be the proper course to pursue. And St. Louis may be glad of the opportunity to postpone.

"April smiling through her tears" may be all right as a figure of speech, but to the ordinary mortal it is usually a question of leaving your umbrella at home at the wrong time. This also holds good when it snows.

Miss Stone has contracted to give 100 lectures in this country. Why not insist that the brigands be brought over and made to listen to all of them as a partial punishment for their crime?

When things get dull in New York the police pull off an alleged "dry Sunday" as an indication of what reform can do when it really gets down to it.

Ecru Floored Him.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

It is related that Dr. James Wise of Covington is the victim of one of his own jokes, and that he is in half mourning on account of it. From all the evidence that can be produced it appears that some time ago the doctor went up against an old game.

One of his friends met him and, producing a pencil, said: "Doctor, see this pencil? I can make it write any color I want to."

The owner of the pencil promptly sat down and wrote I-n-d-i-g-o b-l-u-e.

Then the doctor tumbled and said: "That's pretty good. I'll just go down the street and try that on Theodore Hallam."

Down the street he went, looking for Mr. Hallam. He finally found him, and producing the pencil, said: "Theodore, here's a pencil that I can write any color I want to with."

"Let's see you write ecru," said Mr. Hallam.

The doctor smiled, picked up a piece of paper, and started to work, and for ten consecutive seconds said nothing. Then he said swear words, and added: "I have forgotten how to spell that word."

THE EVOLUTION OF LIGHT.

When grandma was a little girl,
And was sent up to bed,
She carried then a "tallow dip,"
Held high above her head.

When mamma used to go upstairs,
After she'd said "Good night,"
Her mother always held a lamp
So she could have its light.
As soon as sister's bedtime came,
When she was a little lass,
If she found the room too dark,
Mamma would light the gas.
Now, when the sandman comes for me,
I like to have it bright;
So I reach up and turn the key
Of my electric light.

And maybe my dear dolly,
If she lives out her days,
Will see right through the darkness
With the magical X-rays!

SOCIETY GOES IN FOR A SPRINGTIME HORSE SHOW

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, April 7, 1902.

New York will have a horse show this week. It will begin tomorrow at a well-known horse academy uptown, and many of the smart set will have entries. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who is always on the lookout for an opportunity to exhibit his thoroughbreds, has entered his Brown Jug in the polo pony class, while in the harness horse class there are Sinbad and Cinderella. More than 250 horses have been entered for the show altogether. The names of those entering include many of the fashionables of New York, including Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Miss May Deering, Mrs. W. S. Elliott and Mrs. C. Edward Coudert. It is a painful fact that a horse named "Ping-Pong" is entered, but that was to be expected. Since the name of the game has got into every other walk of life, it is not likely that a horse show could escape. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, the young fellow who will be graduated from Yale this summer, will also be represented at the show with his polo pony, Oakland, and the harness horses, Frills and Diplomat. The show will be the society function of the week, and it is likely that almost as much interest will be taken in it locally as was the big horse show in Madison Square garden. There are 31 classes, and all are well filled. The new academy, in which the show will be held, is in Sixty-sixth street, near Central park. The old building was at the Circle, at the lower end of the park, and is now part of the rapid transit subway, although there is talk of a large amusement palace of some kind being erected on the site. In spite of the automobile craze, the love of horses, both for riding and driving, does not show any abatement in New York, and it is a fact that a horse show will attract the society element when every other kind of amusement has palled.

Patrick in the Death Cell.

Still with that imperturbable smile of his, but a little paler than usual, A. T. Patrick today listened to the sentence of death pronounced upon him for the murder of the old millionaire, Rice. Less than three hours afterward he was on his way to Sing Sing. He will remain in the death house there for perhaps a year, by which time he will know whether or not he is to have a new trial. The celerity with which he was taken away from the Tombs when the sentence was pronounced upon him was in striking contrast to the way the case drags through the courts. Patrick was smiling when he began his railroad journey, and perhaps is smiling as he sits in the death cell tonight. This last, however, the public will never know.

First Theater to End the Season.

One New York theater has closed for the season. It is the Garden, where the dreadful failure "Life" was seen on Saturday night for the last time. The Garden has had a rather tempestuous season. It opened with a failure, "Richard Lovelace," with E. H. Sothern in the title role. Then Sothern tried "If I Were King," which was a big success, followed by "Alice of Old Vincennes," irreverently referred to on the Rialto as "Alice of Old Ten Cents," which did not create a sensation even with Virginia Harned as the principal character. Then came the Bostonians in "Maid Marian," which went well, and after that "Life," of which the least said the better. It is not likely that the theater will open again until the fall.

Carriage Callers' Occupation Gone.

The hoarse voice of the "carriage caller" at theaters and social functions will soon be stilled forever in New York, already that important official has had to shoulder his megaphone and depart from one theater here, the Criterion, where Mrs. Leslie Carter is playing in "Du Barry." An ingenious arrangement of electric lights is employed at this theater, by which the number of each carriage is exhibited where all the jarveys can see it as they sit on the box, even when they are a block away from the theater. When the coachman deposits his people at the theater door at the beginning of the evening, he gets a card with a number, the man that gives it to him retaining a card with the corresponding number punched out in a series of small holes. This perforated card is thrust into a frame of electric lights in front of the theater at the close of the performance, and the perforations permit only the number on the card to be seen. The device is entirely successful at the Criterion and will be adopted at other theaters in due course. I heard today that T. Henry French saw the apparatus in London and bought the American rights for $50,000; also that he has since sold a half interest in the American rights for $200,000. The device is the invention of two Englishmen, and is already used rather extensively in London.

Eminent Japanese Tourists.

Considerable interest was manifested in the party of Japanese dignitaries that arrived in New York today and were driven through the city to the Hotel Majestic, facing Central park. Count Matsukata, formerly premier of Japan, was at the head of the party. With him were several prominent men, some of them public officials, and all bearing a family resemblance to him in feature, figure and style of speaking. The party is making a tour of the world and has just reached New York from San Francisco.

Detective Bureau to Be Overhauled.

Consternation prevails in the detective bureau. Although the plan of a newspaper here, with the aid of the district attorney, to catch certain detectives red-handed in taking bribes from thieves, by causing reporters to pretend they were burglars, was not an entire success, it is understood that Capt. Titus, who is at the head of the bureau, may lose his official head. Enough was discovered by the reporters to suggest that the bureau is not as clean as it might be. District Attorney Jerome is investigating and the police have come to know that the "demon district attorney" does that kind of thing with dangerous thoroughness.

No Falling Out of Fusionists.

President Fornes of the board of aldermen, who was elected on the fusion ticket, today denied that there is any split in the fusion ranks in the board. The fusionists were elected as anti-Tammany men, and they will fight Tammany to the end. Before the new board convened the first time there were assertions by Tammany supporters that Tammany aldermen eventually would control the board. They have not done it yet, and it does not appear that they will. But the Tammany aldermen promote a great deal of excitement and fun at the aldermanic meetings, even while in the minority.

Police Department Still Under Fire.

There is expected to be a lively time at Carnegie hall on Saturday night. There is to be a citizens' meeting to protest against the alleged corruption in the police force. So many revelations of illdoing by police have come to light of late that the public feeling against the department is very strong. A prominent citizen remarked to me this afternoon: "This meeting would be a good thing if we could only get some new people to take up the matter. We are tired of the old chestnuts like Parkhurst and Frank Moss. The meeting will not amount to anything if they use the old workers. But if Lafayette himself is clever, and his illusionary play, "The Lion's Bride," is one of the stage marvels of the season. "San Toy" was revived at Daly's tonight, and at the Victoria the French Opera Company repeated "La Belle Helene" in response to popular request. This tuneful "Offenbachian" operetta is the best thing the company has done so far.

Hoodoo Exorcised by a Pig.

The Correspondents' club of New York met for a "pig" dinner in a restaurant near Newspaper row this evening. The club includes all the regular telegraphic correspondents of papers outside of New York, and it makes a specialty of these little dinners now and then. There were 13 present at the feast tonight, but the pig made 14, so that the hoodoo popularly believed to attach to the number 13 was exorcised. It was a Pennsylvania pig, sent expressly from Carlisle at the order of Robert S. Vale, correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who formerly lived in Carlisle.

One New Chapel for Downtown.

In these days of new mammoth hotels, stupendous office buildings, gorgeously equipped theaters and skyscraping apartment houses, it is refreshing to see that a new chapel is to be built in the heart of New York. Plans have just been filed at the department of buildings for a one-story and basement brick building in East Thirty-first street, to be used as a chapel attached as a mission to the Church of the Incarnation in Madison avenue. This is one of the most fashionable Episcopal churches in the city, its congregation including a number of extremely wealthy families. The cost of the new chapel will be $80,000.

Accident to a Veteran Apple Woman.

One of the best-known apple sellers about Washington market is Eliza Kelly. She knows more about apples and fruits of all kinds than many a commission merchant, and it is her boast that she has never been fooled on a fruit trade in her life. The poor old lady is laid up tonight, however. She slipped in alighting from a car near the market, and was so badly shaken and bruised that it is not certain she will recover. Mrs. Kelly is nearly 70 years old and has been in business as a seller of fruits and flowers in the neighborhood of Washington market for the last 40 years. Among her customers have been some of the most prominent persons in the city and state. For the last 10 years she has maintained a stand at the corner of Vesey and Greenwich streets.

Howells Buys a New York House.

William Dean Howells has paid $30,000 cash for a new residence at 314 West Eighty-second street. It is a five-story brownstone dwelling, one of a row that look all alike, but are not the same inside. Heretofore Mr. Howells has been content to gather his household gods in at apartment house in Fifty-ninth street, but he sees that other New Yorkers are owning their own houses when they can, and he has joined the procession.

It is not a dramatic critic who is needed in reviewing the musical comedy that Miss Anna Held is using as a starring medium. A modiste and a color artist with a due sense of the effect of color schemes and a fine supply of adjectives can best give an intelligent conception of what "The Little Duchess" is. The dramatic reviewer can only say what it is not, and negative information in the face of a beauty and costume show of such dazzling magnificence would be most unsatisfactory. It is enough to say that in the way of gowns "The Little Duchess" is the most beautiful and lavish production the stage of the Alvin has doubtless ever known. The female form divine is at a premium, and the gradations in clothing it in "The Little Duchess" runs the entire scale, and from the diaphonous and gossamer bathing suit on the strand at Ostend to the magnificent Paris creations in which Miss Held appeared, there was not a break in the progress of harmony, beauty and sartorial elegance. There was literally not a mere tinsel parade of make-believe dresses. The solidity and costliness of each creation was so patent that the ladies in the audience fairly gasped with every new revelation. Violet, pearl, gold, crimson, yellow and pink in an endless procession passed beneath the kaleidoscopic prisms of the flashlight, forming a picture that would stir the pulses of any expert on clothes. Miss Held was the center of this color scheme. She was the mental star which the handsomest gowns were fitted, and by every device known to modeler in a modiste's parlor, she was put forward in this capacity. Not that she usurped the stage. Not by any means. Miss Held is surrounded by a dozen young women who can boast a greater beauty than the star, and she gave them all a chance. It was one riot of color, beautiful limbs, shapely forms and sparkling jewels from the time the curtain went up until it came down. Dramatically speaking "The Little Duchess" is hardly worth serious attention, except that the manager of it has had the good sense not to break into this gown display scheme anything that will disturb its harmony. The music, some of it by DeKoven, is light and trippingly set. A song, "The Maiden With the Dreamy Eyes," by Johnson, Cole and Johnson, the vaudeville team, caught on instantly with the gallery, and was whistled in great glee, for which applause was offered from the orchestra. A topical song by George Marion introduced a number of local hits and was enthusiastically received. Charles Bigelow as a bathing master was exceedingly funny in his own way and got off a song that is a companion for his "Bill of Fare" ditty in "The French Maid." Joseph Herbert as a fencing master with a gutteral French was clever and Eva Davenport was pendrously coy as a Russian baroness with a penchant for falling in love. Franz Ebert, one of the original Lauren Cians, made a hit, and is another striking example of the effort Mr. Zeigfeld has made to crowd variety and amusement into the three acts of a piece that needs all the padding and costuming that has been given to it. Master Donaldson, a lad found by Mr. Zeigfeld in a church choir in Chicago, contributed a pleasing bit to the entertainment, by accompanying Miss Held in one of the catchiest of her songs from the upper gallery. His voice is a beautiful tenor of the childish order and his singing was a bright addition to the music. Miss Held is simply Miss Held, improved a little in her English and therefore more easily understood when she sings in a voice that can hardly be called distinguished. But then Miss Held's part in the performance is that of a fearfully made for some of the handsomest gowns that ever came to town, in the last act she appears as a street gamin, and the contrast is enough to cause a shock to those who had been dreading of her in those gowns. It will be seen that nothing has been said about the plot of "The Little Duchess." For once the program was absolutely true. There isn't any plot.

The Grand opera house stock company has secured in Hall Caine's play, "The Christian," one of the strongest and most popular productions of the season, viewed from the standpoint of public interest. The play has only been seen in Pittsburgh once, and then at prices greatly in advance of the usual charges of even the higher class theaters. In point of general ensemble effects the Grand's production is equal to if it do not excel in some minor details the Liebler production, while the version of the story used is the one made by Mr. Caine himself and in which Viola Allen starred with such signal success. To review the work from a critical standpoint and would be to thresh over old straw and would, if followed to its logical conclusion, land the critic in the midst of a contention that has profited no one but Mr. Caine. Both his book and his play have been severely criticised and deservedly so. The theme of "The Christian" is one that lends itself readily to the charge of theatric sensationalism. Mr. Caine disavows carnality for his heroine, but he has forced contemplation of her amid surroundings and under conditions that fairly suggest this or they are pointless. His defense of the morality of his story has been very justly condemned as a piece of petitfogging on the part of a literary advertiser of his own wares. But for all this the play is an intensely interesting piece of dramatic work, and outranks the book in vividness and sustained interest. It is climactic and progressive after an order that holds the attention and moves the spectator forward through its scenes without lagging at any point. Glory Quayle is the center of interest from first to last, but the play affords more than one strong part. John Storm is an unreal and wholly theatric creation, but his part in the development of the plot is full of interest and at times intense feeling. The Grand stock company showed the signs of imperfect training in their several roles, a fault that can be readily excused when the immense work involved in the production is considered. Individually the best work is done by Miss Truax as Glory Quayle, and Miss Amelia Gardner in the small part of Polly Love is a close second, while Mr. Ingersoll's John Storm is better, more forceful and intelligent than one would expect, considering the nature of the character and the heavy demands upon the actor's resources to make it natural or human. Miss Truax realizes admirably the physical Glory. With a wealth of red locks and a graceful personality, she invests the character with a charming air of reality. In one or two of the scenes Miss Truax's emotionalism is a little strained and insincere, but in every part she played finely. Mr. Ingersoll is manly and makes Storm an understandable creature. In the crucial scene in Glory's apartments, whither he goes to save her soul and incidentally her life, he is a little stagey and overwrought, but both players carry off this intensely dramatic scene with fine effect. Miss Gardner as Polly Love does a capital piece of acting in the third act of a repressive and tense kind. Mr. Meighan's Horatio Drake is the best thing we have seen him do, and augurs well for his future and the results of hard study and application. Mr. Waldron's Lord Storm is a small dose, as is also Miss Gale's Mrs. Calledeon. Wilton Taylor as the archdeacon and Mr. Yerance as Father Lamplugh fill their roles acceptably, as do Mr. Eggenton as Brother Paul and Mr. Abbe as the manager of a music hall. Dennie Harris, Walter Ware, Willis Martin and Joseph Wighaman play minor parts. The mob scenes are finely handled, the one in the third act being one of the most realistic bits of stagecraft that has ever been seen on a stage, an effect largely aided by Mme. Marion Ballou in the make-up of a tough girl of the London slums. "The Christian" is an immensely interesting production, and the stock company is giving it a performance that will rank among the best things it has ever accomplished when the movement is quickened so as to curtail the length of time consumed. It is announced that the curtain will go up promptly hereafter at 2 and 8 o'clock during the run of "The Christian."

A well-filled house greeted the opening performance in the engagement of the "Are You a Buffalo?" company at the Bijou this week. The play is a typical farce-comedy, with just as little plot as is needed to string a great deal of roughly amusing joking upon. One laughs heartily at the performances of the various characters and in addition finds several parts to admire thoroughly. The music in the play is plentiful, both male and female choruses being used frequently to advantage. Dancing is indulged in at every turn and if any manager has ever succeeded in using ten girls in a ballet to better advantage than is done in this play his production has not been put on a Pittsburgh stage. The work of the individual members hardly needs special description, all being well done. If any are to be named in particular it should be John Price, as the funny Irish policeman "on the beat" and Helen Dare, the real "nice" girl personified by Miss Louise Satour.

John T. Tierney, a great favorite in this city, as usual adds greatly to the success of the play as Sellem McNulty, the auctioneer, and calls forth many rounds of applause. He has an unctious manner of provoking good hearty laughs and it was thoroughly appreciated. Miss Margie Tebau made a hit with her baton twirling and Marty Moore was greatly enjoyed in Hebrew parodies. The artistic cane dance by Grace Falk and chorus is a unique feature and the automobile girls display some of the handsomest costumes seen at the Bijou this season.

A thoroughly enjoyable entertainment greeted the fair sized crowd that waded through the slush to the Empire theater last evening. The pleasure seekers fully appreciated the play, too, and by their excellent order and their enthusiastic applause gave "The Eleventh Hour" a royal welcome. In this, which is considered his best comedy-drama, Lincoln J. Carter has taken his parts from every-day life as seen among the middle classes. This gives to the plot a fascination that has made the play a popular one wherever it has gone. The chief interest, however, centers in the staging of the play, each of the five acts having a strong background of scenic effect. A sensational murder and robbery in the second act, a daring attempt to wreck an express train in the third and a melee in the fifth in which most of the ball room furniture is actually smashed to bits and the electric chandelier set swinging in a way that is wearing on the nerves, put life and vigor into the action. The futile attempts of a villain to entrap an heiress and secure her $1,000,000 forms the basis of the plot of the play. The company is above the average and is well balanced. Frank Weed as Fritz Peltz, the Dutch wooer, is a fun-maker hard to excel. His wit and drollery are natural and with the pert innocence of his sweetheart, Kitty Manly, furnish an abundance of mirth. H. Balfour as Benjamin Fowler, the villain, and his accomplice, Helen Fowler, or Camille D'Arcy as she is known off the stage, were cordially liked forward them, for their clever acting. Joe Manly, the real lover, is a strong character well presented. Of all the "way back down in the country gents" that have appeared on the Empire stage this winter Sprouse Crosby, by Frank Cotton, is the keenp and drawl deserves to rank near the top.

Duquesne—Vaudeville.

Prophets say that in dry weather all signs fail. It must be the same in vaudeville, for the performance at the Duquesne this week is very much of a disappointment to those who went there last night with the expectation of seeing such acts as were displayed upon the paper that emblazoned the streets. Johnstone Bennett, much to everybody's surprise, was the star of the performance. Her "Evening at Home," is as surprisingly a clever a thing as one would want to see. Imagine, if you please, the "female drummer" taking five parts in an act that covers only a quarter of an hour's time, and then you will have some conception of what Miss Bennett has to do. When you consider that she does these five parts remarkably well you will be able to appreciate the fact that she has shown herself an actress of the first water. Her work is one of the saving qualities of the performance. She cannot be given too much credit.

Spaulding, who is introduced as the "only original band-jumper and equilibrist" frames scores his rather mystifying title. He does things that make you wonder how he ever found time to figure them out. He carries his turn through very modestly and that is one of the satisfying features of his act. He doesn't stop after he has done something to be heard some recognition. If the applause comes, all right. If it doesn't, all right. The other people in the bill must be there by sufferance; they surely have not convinced any astute manager that they are money-makers. The good features are very good, but they hardly atone for a bill that has many weak places.

Academy—Imperial Burlesquers.

A crowded house greeted Harry Williams, Ja.'s "Imperial Burlesquers" last night, when they opened for their second engagement here this season. Most of the musical numbers have been changed and enough new business introduced to make a second visit enjoyable. John E. Cain is one of the funniest of burlesque comedians and he has two good running mates in Stewart and Barton, making the comedy department among the best on the road. Blanche Newcomb heads the olio with songs which pleased the audience. McBride and Goodrich, dancing comedians, were applauded liberally. Cain and Tenbrooke have a funny sketch called a "Night of Terror." Harry Stewart made his usual hit with his Yiddisher monologue and parodies. Barton and Ashley in their "Canalboat Sal" sketch raised the usual uproar in the fun line. Darmody and Corello have a fine club-swinging and juggling act. The two burlesques "The Foxy Widow" and "Off to the Front" are good and were much enjoyed by the big audience.

PERSONALS.

"Our season has been excellent," said R. H. Googins of Boston, a representative of a leading rubber house, at the Baltimore & Ohio station. "Sloppy April weather throughout the country sells our goods and more galoshes and rubber boots are being sold than during the year in the oil districts of West Virginia and Ohio the demand for rubber footwear is unprecedented. This is an excellent market for our goods and the year's sales, I think, will equal anything in the record of Pennsylvania."

"I always come to Pittsburgh to buy a plow when I need it," said J. M. Conrad at the Seventh Avenue hotel. "I can get what I want in this city much cheaper than in the east and can save my car fare on my purchase."

PASTOR THOMAS GRANTED A NEW TRIAL BY COURT

Mrs. Sarah McCloy's Verdict for Breach of Promise Knocked Out.

JURY PANEL DISCREDITED

Judge Shafer Decides Service On a Defendant Passing Through the City Is Not Sufficient to Bring Him Into Court.

Judge E. H. Stowe granted a new trial in the case of Mrs. Sarah McCloy against the Rev. J. M. Thomas, pastor of the Union Baptist church, on South Nineteenth street. Mrs. McCloy was awarded $2,500 damages against the defendant in a suit for breach of promise to marry and at the time the court announced that a new trial would be granted.

In granting the new trial Judge Stowe said that this action would have been taken immediately after the verdict had been rendered, but he preferred to wait until the panel of jurors serving at the time was discharged.

Judge J. D. Shafer handed down an opinion upon an interesting point raised in the case of Park Bros. & Co., limited, against the Oil City Boiler Works of Oil City. Service in the case was had upon D. J. Geary, vice president of the defendant company, as he was passing through Pittsburgh, and the defendant company alleged that the service so obtained was not lawful.

The court says it cannot find any supreme court decisions upon the subject, but refers to several cases having some bearing on the case. Judge Shafer says he is of the opinion that the plaintiff cannot bring the defendant into court to defend the action upon the service obtained and a rule to this effect is made absolute.

PRIEST WINS HIS CASE.

Alex Federzak and Others Compelled to Turn Over Church Property to the Rev. Stefanovitch.

A hearing was held yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 in the equity proceedings of Rev. Nicholas Stefanovitch against Alexander Federzak and 14 other members of the St. John the Baptist Greek Catholic church, Carson and South Seventh streets, and Constable James E. Glenn.

An order was made compelling the defendants to turn over the books, accounts, papers and keys of the church to the plaintiff, and also restraining them from interfering with his duties as pastor until a final hearing in the case, which will be some time in May.

The plaintiff alleged the defendants used force in taking the keys to the church from him, and refused to allow him to conduct services, although his course had been indorsed by the congregation. Attorney James S. Campbell represented the plaintiff.

Grafner Cannot Recover.

Judge F. H. Collier handed down an opinion in the case of Emanuel Grafner against the Pittsburgh, Neville Island & Coraopolis Street Railway Company, an action to compel the transfer of stock and issue of new certificates. It developed in the case that the directors of the company issued stock to themselves as compensation for alleged services rendered. The plaintiff holds that they had no right to do this. It is also stated that the plaintiff has knowledge that the stock was in litigation before purchasing it, he is not a bona fide purchaser and cannot recover.

Filed Caveat by Mistake.

John W. Robinson took out letters of administration on the $50,000 estate of James D. Robinson. By a will the estate was left to a sister, but she died, and it will now go to Mrs. Mary A. Love and William R. Park of Philadelphia, and A. L. Robinson and John W. Robinson of this city. A caveat against the will filed by Mrs. Love, through a misunderstanding, was withdrawn. Attorney George D. Riddle represents the estate.

Vitor E. Devlen sued R. D. Devlen to recover $506 for services as a farm hand from 1896 to 1900.

By the will of F. H. Schilling, late of Pittsburgh, a small estate is bequeathed to James F. Conner.

Johanna Jantzen sued the Supreme Conclave, Improved Order Heptasophs, for $5,000 on a policy.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of James M. Park shows a valuation of $6,193 57.

Proceedings were begun by Ethel M. Graver to get possession of property on Rebecca street from William S. McDowell and others.

Thomas Fields entered suit against the Allegheny Express Company for $5,000 damages for alleged injuries received by being run over by a wagon.

Suit was entered by Jacob and William Augenstein against the West Side Belt Railroad Company for $2,500 damages to their property in Baldwin township.

A report was made upon the property of Gustine F. Wells of Nanticoke, bankrupt, showing that the property had been sold for $65 subject to a mortgage of $1,200.

A statement was filed in the case of Thomas S. Perkins against Stan Whanlewski, a Duquesne saloon keeper, in which plaintiff wants $5,000 damages for an alleged assault.

Grace Atkinson, late of Pittsburgh, left $50 to Mrs. A. F. Snively, $25 to Mrs. A. C. Cool and the balance of a small estate to James A. Miller. Attorney John A. Wilson filed the will.

Executions were issued as follows: Ed A. Jeffers vs. Samuel J. Little, $150; James G. Montgomery et al. vs. James C. Meyers, $515; Penn Loan association vs. Arthur Fagan, $646.

The will of Patrick Cassiday, late of Pittsburgh, was filed. Daniel Cassidy, a son, is cut off with $5, James C. McCabe gets $1,000 and the residue of a $2,000 estate goes to the testator's son, Philip.

In the case of Montgomery Patton against C. I. McDonald, a contractor, a verdict for $5,500 was returned for the plaintiff for personal injuries received. At the first trial of the case Patton was awarded $5,222.

Exceptions in behalf of the plaintiff to the decree of the court were filed in the case of Milton I. Baird and others against the city of Pittsburgh, an action brought for land appropriated, alleged to be for use of Carnegie institute.

The will of Margaret Morris, late of Pittsburgh, which was filed for probate, disposes of an estate worth $51,000. The entire estate is bequeathed to George Morris, her husband, and at his death it goes to their children. Attorney L. C. Barton represents the estate.

In the bankruptcy case of the Hygean Milk Company of Erie the referee decided that creditors who had furnished material and done work on buildings on land leased by the company, who had filed mechanics liens, were not secured creditors. He finds that the liens were too general, also that it is incumbent on creditors to show the particular fund to which they are entitled.

The deposition of W. H. Berger, taken at Atlantic City, in the case of the Pittsburgh Coal Company against William P. DeArmit and others, involving the transfer of the stock of the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Company, was filed. Berger gives some testimony in reference to the agreement referred to in the bill, and says the Pittsburgh Coal Company was not known in the matter.

The argument was principally upon exceptions to the report of the master who practically found that the Onward was at fault. The argument was concluded and the papers were taken by the court.

NEW SCHOOL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION FORMED

First Meet Will Be Held in Schenley Park Next May and Annually Thereafter.

A new era was begun in Western Pennsylvania and local school sports yesterday afternoon, when the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Track Athletic association was formed with the following officers: G. W. Gosser of the central board of education, president; Prof. E. M. Snitzer of Allegheny Preparatory school, secretary, and Prof. H. B. Cooper of Pittsburgh High school, treasurer.

The first meet is to be held May 31 at Schenley park, and annually thereafter. There will also be a silver medal for each member of the winning team in the relay race. There will also be a handsome trophy cup donated by a local merchandise establishment for the winning school taking the championship.

A program of 15 events was decided upon with five points to be awarded for first place; three for second, two for third and one point for third in each. It was further decided that a school entering the meet must have at least six representatives as evidence of an honest intention to go after the championship honors.

The list of events decided on for Schenley park are as follows: 220 dash, 440 dash, half mile run, one mile run, low hurdles, high hurdles, one mile relay race (teams of four men), pole vault, running high jump, running broad jump, half mile bicycle, two-mile bicycle, two-pound shot put, and two-pound hammer throw. ALMOST READY TO TURN OUT MORE ICE

The Consolidated Company's New Plant on South Side Nearly Completed—Officers Elected.

Directors of the Consolidated Ice Company met yesterday afternoon at their headquarters and perfected the organization of the company, renewal of which has been delayed since the annual meeting several months ago. The present officers were re-elected. The quarterly report of the officers was received and is said to show the greatest business for a single quarter since the company was formed three years ago.

It was reported at the meeting that William Miller & Sons, who are erecting the new South Side plant of the company, have the work over two-thirds completed. Tis plant, at Twenty-first street and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad crossing, is to have a capacity of 125 tons of artificial ice daily, making the output of all plants about 1,100 tons. In addition the new plant is to produce 3,000 gallons of distilled water daily. Its cost will be about $140,000. The plant is to be practically completed by the middle of May and it is to be making ice by May 20.

The directors yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable April 20. Attending the meeting were Directors M. K. McMullin, A. W. Mellon, W. V. Callery, John F. Craig, Thomas M. Rees, James McAfee and George M. von Bonnhorst. The officers elected are James McAfee, president; Thomas M. Rees, vice president; William F. Melhuish, secretary and treasurer, and Thomas A. Dunn, general manager.

ESTIMATES DIDN'T JIBE.

Expert Figures on Filtration Bed Property Range from $70,542 to $206,034.

The hearing before the board of viewers in the condemnation of the Delafield pronerty at Aspinwall for filtration beds was resumed yesterday. Witnesses for the protestants concluded their testimony in the morning and those for the city were called in the afternoon. The testimony is expected to be all in today, after which arguments will be heard and the viewers will then make their report.

For the contestants D. F. Black said he estimated the value of the 40 acres the city wants at $175,456; J. L. Love, a contractor, put it at $206,641; Francis Park, a real estate dealer, at $206,034; L. O. Seidel, a real estate dealer, at $224,575; S. J. Saint, a hardware dealer at Sharpsburg, at $203,335. The latter said he had charge of the property for 20 years and that the revenue derived from the whole estate was $2,800 a year. He valued the estate, 452 acres, at $680,875. John F. Baxter said he thought the 40 acres worth $168,211, and Andrew Yerkins thought the piece worth $195,000.

Morris Knowles, expert engineer on the work, was recalled and asked as to what land adjoining the 40 acres would be taken for filling and grading, which he thought would be immaterial.

A. N. Bean was the first witness for the city, but was not asked many questions. He valued the 40 acres at only $70,542. Daniel McWilliams, a real estate man, put it at $80,000. Aside from the 40 acres desired by the city, which was the best of the tract, he thought $500 an acre was a good price for the balance. He was questioned as to the damages to the other property, but was inclined to think the filtration beds would not hurt it and might have a tendency to force it on the market. He refused to make a positive statement that the beds would create an obnoxious smell or would attract mosquitoes. Rev. Christian Henderson of Aspinwall was called, but before he was asked any questions an adjournment was taken.

WRECK NEAR MONESSEN.

Washout Caused Engine to Overturn and 35 Passengers Were Given a Scare.

A washout on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad between Webster and Monessen caused a wreck last night which resulted in the overturning and demolishing of engine No. 96 of train No. 36, northbound, known as the Flyer. Conductor John Loye, Engineer Thomas Pratt. A large tree and rock on the track obstructed the track and but for the timely action of the engineer the train would have landed in the Monongahela river.

About 35 passengers were on board and were transferred to a special train from Fayette City. Wrecking crews from Webster and McKees Rocks were hurried to the scene.

Society.

A NUMBER of people in Western Pennsylvania are interested in a society now in process of organization which has for its object the vindication of Aaron Burr of the charge of treason. The organization is to be called the Aaron Burr league and its promoter is Charles Felton Pidgin, the author of "Blennerhasset." Miss Alice Brown Morrison of Beaver, John H. Carroll of Wilkesbarre and Harvey Huffman of Stroudsburg are Pennsylvanians who will co-operate with Mr. Pidgin in his undertaking. Miss Morrison is a descendant of connections of Aaron Burr any many of those who are being enlisted in the movement bear a distant relationship to the brilliant Burr and his lovely daughter.

The purpose of the league as stated by Mr. Pidgin is the publication of pictures, letters and documents which will throw light upon the life and character of Aaron Burr and eventually to erect in Newark, N. J., his birthplace, or in New York city, a monument to the memory of Burr, his daughter, Theodosia Burr Alston, and his grandson, Aaron Burr Alston.

Others who are mentioned in connection with the formation of the league are Eugene Lemoyne Didier of Baltimore, Mrs. Mary R. Townsend of the City of Mexico, a connection of the Burr family; Mrs. Stella Edwards Drake of Boston, a lineal descendant of Jonathan Edwards, the grandfather of Aaron Burr; Henry C. Warner of New York, Ira K. Morris of Staten Island, Charles Burr Todd of New York, Maj. Livingston Mimms of Atlanta and Col. John A. Joyce of Washington, D. C.

Burdette, and the building belonging to the Cummock School of Oratory, built by Mrs. Grigg, the whole lower floor of which is given to clubs. This floor will be occupied by the Shakespeare club during the biennial and will be open for entertainment during the entire week. The building is in the Elizabethan style after Shakespeare's home, and is both finished and furnished in the quaint old English manner.

The "Ebell" is in the form of a Greek temple and its hospitable doors will also be thrown open during the entire week to the visiting club women.

Pasadena also has a beautiful club house erected in 1898 for the Shakespeare club by Miss Susan H. Stickney, a memorial building for her sister. This structure is built after the manner of Anne Hathaway's cottage and has a beautiful old English garden attached. The beamed ceilings, paneled and wainscoted walls, old chimney piece and leaded window-panes are all in harmony with the general style of the exterior. The furnishings are also old-fashioned and harmonious.

The Woman's club house of Los Angeles is representative of the style known as Mission architecture, the result of the adoption of the Renaissance style of Southern Europe to the material and workmanship of the Mission buildings. It is enclosed on two sides by arcades roofed with Spanish terra cotta tile and has a south dormer and a flower balcony. The furnishings of the interior are in harmony with the Mission style. Heavily beamed ceilings, walls of cathedral sand finish, polished floors and unbroken window-lights all make the club house most attractive.

For the biennial the grounds of the patio and the arcades are to be enclosed with canvas and beautifully decorated with bamboo, palms and flowers, so that the whole will form part of the club interior. The three receiving parties, the general biennial board, the local biennial board and the state federation, will all have their own rooms and with the large hall and the patio addition it is believed that ample room will be provided for the opening biennial reception. Luncheon will be served all week at the Woman's club house.

The Simpson auditorium, where the general meetings are to be held, will seat 1,900. It is intended to erect on the grounds near pavilions for rest and committee rooms. These canvas rooms will be furnished and decorated and found very convenient for those chairmen who need to call frequent meetings without going down town and reassembling later.

Celebrating Fifteenth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark C. Calhoun of Crafton avenue, Crafton, entertained about 50 of their friends last evening in honor of the 15th anniversary of their marriage. They received their guests, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Calhoun, Mrs. George Warden, Mrs. Calhoun's sister, and Mrs. Novello of Crafton. The hostess wore a gown of gray crepe and her sister was in black net over silk. The house was artistically decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. White carnations were used in the hall, pink roses in the parlors and in the dining room the decorations were of yellow tulips. The host and hostess were the recipients of a large number of handsome souvenirs, among them a handsome silver service, and those who served as attendants at their wedding 15 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun were married in Pittsburgh by the Rev. James Duncan, who was present last evening. Mrs. Calhoun was formerly Miss Gertrude Knox of the East End. An impromptu musical program was one of the enjoyable features of the evening's entertainment and was given by Miss Helen Barnes of Pittsburgh, contralto; Mrs. Edgar Means, violinist, and Harry Rodgers, pianist.

Mexico, Past and Present.

Dr. Francis Henry Wade delivered his new Mexican lecture, "Mexico in the Past and Present," before a large audience in the parish house of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, last night, under the auspices of the Trinity club. The lecturer gave an eloquent account of the Toltecs, the Chichimecs, the Aztecs and others of the remarkable primitive races who peopled Mexico before the discovery of America by Columbus. The struggles of the Mexicans to free themselves from the Spanish yoke and the romantic episode of the brief reign of Maximillian and his unfortunate wife, Carlotta, as emperor and empress of Mexico, were graphically described. The government and resources of the Mexico of today also claimed a large share of the lecturer's attention.

The Church Club Meeting.

One of the interesting affairs of last evening in Crafton was the closing meeting of the Crafton Church club held at the parish house of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Nativity, of which the pastor is the Rev. Frank Steed. Among those who contributed to the program last evening were Miss Marian Taber Gaston of Sewickley, Mrs. E. B. Jeffcoat of Crafton and Miss Virginia Murdoch of Ingram, soprano; Miss Anna McCrew Tindle of Glenfield, contralto; E. Curtis Clark of Crafton, bass; Miss Lulu Nesbit of Oakdale, pianist; John F. Chambers of Lewisburg, O., reader, and Mrs. D. O. Cunningham of Pittsburgh, accompanist.

Turning of the Wheel of Fashion.

A Pittsburgher who has just returned from New York says that the very newest thing he saw while east was the ping-pong necktie. Like its predecessor, the golf tie, it is distinctly Scotch in character, with striking plaids, and is worn by both men and women.

From the south comes the latest expression regarding a fashionable girl's entrance in the social world. She "starts" this winter instead of she makes her [illegible] season, is the latest rendering in [illegible] world.

[illegible]-Bardeen.

[illegible], PA., April 7.—(Special.)—In the presence of only the near-[illegible] the bride and groom, [illegible] daughter of Mr. and [illegible] Bardeen, was married [illegible] home of her parents [illegible] of Pittsburgh. The Rev. Dr. [illegible] Kracskopf officiated. The bride was gowned in white crepe de [illegible] trimmed with point lace and carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley, was attended by her father. There were no bridesmaids. Charles Aaron of Pittsburgh acted as best man. On their return from an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Cohen will reside at 1201 Fayette street, Pittsburgh.

Wedding Cards.

The cards are out for the wedding of Miss Evelyn Madison Macon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Conway Macon of Orange Court House, Va., and Henry Dickson Atwood of Sewickley, which will take place in St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal church at Orange Court House on Wednesday evening, April 23, at 6 o'clock. Miss Macon is a sister of Mrs. Frank G. Paulson and has frequently visited in Sewickley. Mr. Atwood is a son of Henry M. Atwood of Leetsdale and he and his bride will make their future home in the Alexander Laughlin house, in Walnut street, Sewickley.

Sales of Cuban Laces.

Quite a crowd attended the sale held at the home of Mrs. James R. Gilmore, in Beaver street, Sewickley, yesterday afternoon. The sale was of drawn work and laces, the product of women in Cuba. The proceeds of the sale go toward the establishment of a Protestant school in Cuba. Great interest was taken in the sale, and it was attended by many of the society women of Sewickley who are interested in the project. Tea was served by Mrs. Gilmore. She was assisted by Miss Evans, Mrs. Alfred B. Harlow and Mrs. James Houston.

In a private car last evening quite a party of Pittsburgh people left for Lancaster, Pa., to attend the wedding on Saturday of Miss Leila Reno Locker of Lancaster and Frederick Atwood McVay, son of Charles B. McVay of this city. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McVay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McVay, Jr., Mrs. Marshall Christy and her little daughter, Lieut. Gen. and Mrs. Rice, Miss Mary Chaplin, Miss Henrietta McGeary, Mr. and Mr. Wallace G. Muzzy and William P. McVay.

OATMEAL MUSH AND DIABETES.

Dr. Pavy of England has shown that diabetes is due to an imperfect digestion of starch and its absorption in the blood. It is impossible for the stomach to digest cereal foods taken in the form of mush, in which the starch is less than half cooked. This is one of the reasons why diabetes is becoming so common in this country and British Islands. French physicians long ago discovered that toasted bread or dextrinized starch is an excellent remedy in diabetes. The best dextrinized food, however, is known to be Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, made by the Battle Creek Sanitarium Food Co. These flakes are thin, thoroughly cooked and browned. They are very appetizing, partly pre-digested and quickly assimilable.

The Season's Work of the Matinee Club of Pittsburgh and Allegheny

MATINEE CLUB GIVES RECORDS FOR PAST YEAR

Interesting Tables and Summary of Brunot's Island Events.

OLD OFFICERS ELECTED

New Schedule of Matinees Was Adopted—The Track and Property Damaged by Floods, but Will Be in Good Shape by June 7.

The Matinee club of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, whose club house and track are at Brunots Island, held its regular annual meeting at the Hotel Lincoln last night. President J. G. Bennett presided over the meeting and Secretary W. S. Steele was in the chair.

The following officers were elected to serve until April, 1903: President, J. G. Bennett; vice president, J. D. Callery; secretary and treasurer, W. S. Steele; directors, J. G. Bennett, Charles Donnelly, J. H. Moore, R. H. Boggs, Henry W. Oliver, J. D. Callery, H. Darlington, Robert McAfee and J. B. Chapman.

The executive committee is composed of W. V. Callery, Charles Donnelly, Robert McAfee, J. D. Callery, H. Buhl, Jr., and F. A. Brobst. The race committee members are J. G. Bennett, Henry W. Oliver, W. S. Steele, J. H. Moore and J. A. Gleesenkamp. The latter two are additions to this committee.

The 1902 Schedule.

The following schedule was adopted for the season of 1902:

Spring series—Horses start at 1:30 p. m. June 7, 14, 21 and 28.

Summer series—Horses start at 1:30 p. m. July 5, 12, 19 and 26.

Fall series—Horses start at 1 p. m. August 2, 9, 16, 23, 30, September 6, 13, 20 and 27, and October 4. This makes a series of 18 matinees for the year.

The club membership was largely represented and the proceedings were characterized by a general expression of satisfaction in the past and confidence of greater success in the future.

The club property suffered considerably from the effects of the recent flood, the track, fences, stables and other property being damaged to a great extent, but Secretary Steele reported that a large force of men had been employed for some time getting things back into their usual condition, and that by June 7 everything would be in better shape than last season.

CHAMPIONS WIN FIRST GAME FROM LITTLE ROCKS

Neither Team Scored Until Third Inning, When Visitors Tallied.

SKOPEC WAS A PUZZLE

Former Chicago-American League Star Held Pirates Down for Four Innings—Leach's Leg Is Well and Strong—Smith's Good Showing.

By JAMES M. NELLIS,
Staff Correspondent.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., April 7.—The Little Rock team of the Southern league had the champion Pirates guessing for a while this afternoon, much to the delight of a large proportion of a crowd of 500 spectators at Whittington park. For a time things looked a bit blue, but Clarke's men finally got to work in proper shape and wound up the contest with a victory by 9 to 4.

The game was well played and thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators. The minor leaguers started off with Pitcher Skopec, a graduate of the old interstate, in the box, and had they kept him on the rubber there is no telling what the end would have been. Skopec, who is a left-hander, was with the Chicago American league team last season, and that club still claims his services, but for some reason or other he prefers to play in Little Rock.

Skopec Pitched Well.

He had everything that a good twirler should have had this afternoon and he let himself out so as to show he is there in the pitching line. He twirled for four innings and in that time the best the Pirates could do was five hits and but one run. His added to his achievement the honor of striking out both Honus Wagner and Lefty Davis.

The hard work of the first four innings told on Mr. Skopec and he retired in favor of Mr. Guese, another product of the interstate, with a Heiny Peitz face and an elephantlike walk. It was on Mr. Guese the champions turned loose and they made up for the dime and energy wasted on Mr. Skopec.

In the three innings which Guese lasted they totaled up nine hits, which netted them seven runs, just two more than enough to win. In the eighth inning Watt relieved Guese and two more runs were scored.

Poole Starts In.

The champions started business with Eddie Poole in the box, and while he was somewhat erratic in his work yet he held the visitors down to three hits, one per inning, and no runs. Doheny went in to take his medicine in the fourth and it was off his delivery the minors made all their runs and nine of their hits. Doheny was not half trying and pitched only straight balls, and the visitors were lucky, as some ugly errors were made. Tannehill pitched the last three innings and allowed but two hits and not a run.

Tommy Leach and Harry Smith, who arrived this morning with Secretary Pulliam, were put to work at once by Manager Clarke. Leach was at his regular position on third base, and though he has had no training he put up a splendid game. In the sixth inning he smashed the ball on the nose and drove it far down into centerfield for a home run.

Leach's Leg Is Well.

The way Tommy dashed around the bases showed that his injured leg, which gave him so much trouble last season, is as well and strong as it ever was. Smith went in to catch Tannehill for the last three innings of the game, but did not have enough to do to allow a fair estimate of his playing ability. He is a very likely looking young fellow, and those who should know say he is one of the best catchers in the country.

The visitors were blanked for the first three innings, but they started their many friends in the grandstand to cheering when they scored three runs off Doheny's delivery in the fourth. These runs were the result of singles by Davis and Gilbert, a two-bagger by Unler and an ugly error by Doheny, who made a bad fumble of Waller's grounder, thereby missing a nice double play. Their other run was scored in the sixth on a single by Gilbert, a wild pitch by Doheny and a single by Clayton.

Pirates Score in Fourth.

There was nothing for the Pirates until the fourth inning was reached, when one tally was scored by Bransfield, who reached first on a single, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Conroy's drive away up the mountainside in left field for three bases. Two more were added in the fifth, when Davis led off with a double to left.

He reached third on Leach's single to center, and Tommy made second on the throw-in, both runners scoring on Clarke's single to middle.

In the sixth four runs were scored as a result of singles by Ritchey, Conroy and Davis and Leach's home run. Two more were scored in the ninth on a single, a fumble and a wild throw. The scores:

Notes of the Game.

Tom Clarke, Little Rock's right fielder, is a full blooded Indian of the Wyandotte tribe, and is a pretty good ball player, too.

"Jack" Pitcairn, superintendent of the bureau of health of Pittsburgh, was out at the game this afternoon and rooted hard for the Pirates.

The Pirates showed some very fast work in their preliminary practice and this was enjoyed by the spectators, who showed their appreciation by bestowing liberal applause.

The minor league's worked the double cross in the fourth and secured a run by it. The Pirates on the bench gave Chief Zimmer the laugh for allowing the play to be made on him.

Deacon Phillippe loafed out in left field and looked after the balls that were knocked foul. He worked all right until he got two or three chasers up the mountain side and then threw up the job.

Sam Leever amused the spectators by his antics in pitching to a small boy. The schoolmaster pulled the ball in with all speed and the little fellow stood the duelling for quite a while, but finally had to give up, then Sammy smiled.

Gilbert, who plays middle field for Little Rock, has all the qualities of a star. He made a sensational catch after a hard run and batted well, getting two singles. Clayton, the short stop, is also a handy boy with his bat and in the field.

Conroy's error, which was made in the third inning, was an excusable one. He made a brilliant pick up of Gilbert's grounder after a hard run, but his throw was a bit too high for Bransfield to reach. The spectators applauded the pick-up just the same.

When the Pirates started in today Conroy was at short, Wagner in left field, and Manager Clarke on the bench. In the fifth inning when things looked squally Manager Clarke lifted Beaumont out of the game, sending Wagner to middle, and he took his old place. The change worked well, as the Champions started to score from that inning and kept it up.

Bout Declared Off.

The 20-round bout that was to have taken place at McKees Rocks last night between Herman Beck and Charles Cramer was declared off after a preliminary. The failure of the management to produce the gloves disgusted the audience and after waiting some time the police cleared the hall.

WILL FIX YOUNG'S SALARY.

First Probable Official Act of the National League Baseball Executive Committee.

Probably the first official act of the National league baseball executive committee, which was appointed at the meeting in New York last week, will be to fix the salary of the secretary and treasurer, N. E. Young.

While no meeting has been called for the committee it is expected that it will convene in New York about the opening of the coming playing season. The New York offices have not been selected, but it is probable that they will locate them in lower Broadway.

Secretary Young at present is in Europe, and he would remove to this country about the middle of this month. It is expected he will be back at the league headquarters before the opening of the season. While the salary question rests with the two offices will receive any remuneration for their services, he will do likewise.

Large rivers generally happen to run close to large cities!

The best $6.00 shoes usually happen to have Oak leather Soles!

This accident is found to happen with every pair of Regals at $3.50.

It rarely indeed happens to any other make of shoes at $3.50, as wear, or dissection, will prove.

Live Oak Soles cost ten to fifteen cents more than Hemlock soles, and add a dollar to Regal wear.

A little paint covers both kinds so that the 15 cents may be conveniently "saved" to thrifty Makers—the DOLLAR lost to Wearers.

VULCAIN WON HANDICAP.

Ampere Set a Hot Pace to the Last Sixteenth Pole, but Favorite Won.

MEMPHIS, TENN., April 7.—In the Country club handicap at one mile at Montgomery park this afternoon, Vulcain, from the Hildreth stable, was installed favorite, with Silurian a strong second choice. Ampere, at long odds, set a hot pace to the last sixteenth pole, where he was joined by Vulcain, and after a drive the latter won by a neck in good time.

George Bennett's unbeaten two-year-old Mallory won the second race at 4½ furlongs. Orr, next to the last, the colt with top weight, ran around his field and won pulled up by half a length from Onatus.

W. H. May scored in the fourth race at four furlongs for two-year-olds, winning with Louise Collier at comfortable odds. Philo, the favorite, was second.

The fifth event was a steeple chase over the short course. MacLaren, first choice, won all the way.

The sixth and last race brought a field of seven. Ecome and W. B. Gates divided honors in the ring. Ecome a good start Menace won handily from Ecome, with Gates a length away.

The Tennessee derby, at a mile and an eighth, will be run tomorrow and 8 starters are assured. Abe Frank and Ed Austin, Bennett's entry, are prohibitive favorites in tonight's betting at 7 to 4. Lou Woods and Buckeath are quoted at 3 and Red Hook and H. L. Coleman at eights. The indications are that the derby will be decided over a good track. Summary:

First race, five and 70 yards, selling—Trebor, 107, Lindsay, 6 to 5, won; Pay the Fidler, 102, Birkenruth, 4 to 1 and 3 to 2, second; Syncopated Sandy, 100, Otis, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:50. Pearl, McWilliams, Miss Sara and Dell Allen ran.

Second race, 4½ furlongs—Mallory, 113, Coburn, 1 to 2, won; Onatus, 108, J. Woods, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Henry McDaniel, 101, Bayless, 10 to 1, third. Time, :56¾. Tom Cogan, Early, Ben Chalice and Pennant ran.

Third race, the Country club handicap, mile —Vulcain, 107, Birkenruth, even, won; Ampere, 102, R. Steele, 10 to 1 and 5 to 2, second; Silurian, 98, J. Walsh, 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:45. Ida Lesford ran.

HAY EXPLAINS SOME DEALINGS WITH CHRISTMAS

HIS CLAIM TURNED DOWN

The Repudiated Agent of Danish Government Had No Part in the Negotiations—Secretary Hay Is Willing to Testify When Called.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Secretary Hay is ready to appear before Mr. Dalzell's congressional committee at any time his presence is desired, to tell what he knows in connection with Christian's Danish island purchase bribery scandal. Mr. Dalzell so announced to the committee this afternoon.

The chairman rather emphatically dissented from Mr. Richardson's suggestion that as the secretary "had used this man" (Christian), there should be a more detailed explanation of any communication sent to him. Mr. Dalzell presented a letter from Secretary Hay which says:

In the early part of December, 1899, Capt. Christmas called upon me at this department and informed me that, through private and personal sources in Copenhagen, he had become aware that there was disposition among some of the leading members of the Danish government to regard favorably an overture from the government of the United States, looking to the acquisition of the Danish islands. It was said that he had been a naval officer, and spoke at some length in regard to dealing for the island of St. John as a naval station for the United States. At my suggestion he conveyed what further technical information he had on this subject to Admiral Bradford of the navy department, although he seemed to be essentially what Capt. Christmas expressly declared he had no official character. I thought his story was of sufficient interest to warrant my communicating it to the members of the government whom he had mentioned.

I gave him a note of introduction to Mr. White and they met in Copenhagen, where Capt. Christmas had arranged for an interview between Mr. White and a member of the Danish government. Mr. Christmas was present during the interview and his connection with the matter ceased entirely at that time.

He afterward returned to Washington and I saw him once or twice, and told him that there was not need of the services of any private person in any negotiation which might be taken up between the two governments in regard to the acquisition of the islands.

In a letter to Minister Brun of Denmark enclosed, Mr. Hay refers to the signing of the convention of cession and adds:

The government of the United States is in no manner under obligation to the good offices of private parties in reaching the agreement now happily brought about between the United States and Denmark and cannot admit for its own part or support in any way any such claim against the Danish government for commission, compensation or remuneration of whatever nature which might be made by private parties for alleged services in connection with the cession of the islands in question to the United States.

A letter from Mr. Brun states that "Capt. Christmas had no authorization whatever to offer this island on the part of the Danish government, nor to make any promises in the name of the government in connection therewith." Mr. Brun also says he gave Christmas no letter of introduction, but refused his requests in this connection.

Isaac N. Seligman of the firm of J. & W. Seligman, bankers at New York, told the committee of Christmas asking the firm to take charge of money transfers in case of a cession of the islands.

Senator Depew denied all knowledge of Christmas.

The committee adjourned on call of the chairman.

SOME OF THE BOTTLERS ARE NOT OUTSPOKEN

John Kearns of Penn Avenue the Only One to Acknowledge Business With Speakeasies.

If all the applicants for bottlers' licenses are to believed John Kearns of No. 1520 Penn avenue supplies all of the speakeasies and disorderly houses in the two cities with beer and liquors. Kearns acknowledged that it was his business, but not another applicant knew anything about such places. They were all very closely questioned. When Kearns said he supplied them Judge Frazer asked:

"Will you give us the names of some?"

"No, I would not do that," replied Kearns.

"Very well, sir," said Judge Frazer, in a tone that did not augur well for the applicant. "call another."

It may be possible that some of John L. Myers' beer gets to some of the visitors of the law, as he told the court that he loads up the wagons at his place, No. 2240 Wylie avenue, and starts them out to sell wherever they may. When they dispose of a load they return and load up again. He appeared very much astonished when informed that he was violating the law by so doing.

According to the representatives of the brewing companies there is quite a lot of beer made and sold in Allegheny county. The Pittsburgh Brewing Company, with its 12 breweries, last year produced 350,000 barrels. The Duquesne Brewing Company produced 116,000 barrels last year, D. Lutz & Co. sold 92,500 barrels, the Allegheny Brewing Company, 85,500; the Anchor Brewing Company at Breckenridge, 75,000. The Home Brewing Company of Braddock expects to produce 50,000 this year. Then there are the Hilltop and Monongahela companies and before the summer is over the chartiers Company of Carnegie expects to be supplying some of the saloons.

P. X. Earl of No. 609 Ann street, Allegheny, was roughly handled by the court. He denied everything, though, except the accusation that he frequents a house in Anderson street. When asked about a house in Craig street he acted as if he never had heard of such a thoroughfare. He was accused by the court of being frequently drunk, but said that was a mistake. "It may not be entirely right," said Judge Rodgers, "but the fact that the applicant has been intoxicated frequently during the past year is my own personal knowledge."

Joseph H. Reed, Chartiers and Adams streets, was the last applicant on the bottlers' list. He was questioned about his connection with the Sixth Ward club. Reed loaned six boys money to buy a shanty boat, which was the headquarters of the club."

"How much liquor did you sell to the club?"

"I don't know exactly," was the answer.

"You will not say that you did not sell them over $1,500 worth of liquor during the six months the club was in existence?"

"No, I don't know how much it was," said Reed.

"Is it not a fact," said Judge Rodgers, "that these boys have been ruined in every way since they formed that club and you furnished them liquor?"

Reed acknowledged that the boys were not much good, but said he did not think the club has anything to do with it.

Commencing with the Eighteenth ward this morning it is expected to complete the county today.

STEEL COMBINE BOND CIRCULAR COMING TODAY

CENTRALIZATION PLANS

Corporation's Plants All Too Busy to Put Into Execution the Cherished Project of Bringing the Mills Together—Good Wire Trade.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—An official circular giving details of the United States Steel Corporation's $250,000,000 bond issue is expected to be made public this week. In fact, it was said today by an official of the combine that it probably will be forthcoming tomorrow. It is now being printed.

The financial details of this scheme already are generally known, and present interest centers principally in the betterment projects upon which the $50,000,000 of fresh capital will be used. The statements that appeared in the press on Sunday and this morning, about the engineering experts and heads of departments having been summoned to confer upon the physical needs of the properties of which they have charge, are in line with the information given by your correspondent several days ago. Conferences between the executive officials of the United States Steel Corporation have been in progress here for several weeks.

Delayed by Heavy Business.

The policy of centralization long ago adopted by the combine eventually will be put into general application, but it was said today by a prominent interest in the United States Steel Corporation that many plans would have to be held in abeyance while the mills are so heavily booked with business. The Connaut project, involving the erection of a large tube and pipe plant, probably will be carried into effect first of all, and other similar means of economy will be introduced as convenient.

The United States Steel Corporation is now booking orders for plate and structural material for delivery in 1903. On this long-time business prices are being quoted on the basis of prevailing quotations.

Wire Business Excellent.

An officer of the American Steel and Wire Company today said:

Business at present is exceedingly good. This reflects primarily the home trade, though the export business also is broadening out. There is some increased demand for our products from South Africa, though so far this has not by any means been of large volume, when any large increase is likely to come from, on account of the difficulty of securing raw materials. Another fact to be borne in mind is that none of the Birmingham companies has a steel plant with estimated capacity of 1,000 tons a day, that has to be taken care of with basic iron, and the same company also supplies furnaces with acid iron, which is another concerns. The heavy demand for basic has made it profitable for several of the Virginia furnaces to contract for acid product instead of that grade, and the supply of foundry iron will be diminished proportionately.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—One of the richest strikes in the history of Cripple Creek is reported in the Vindicator. In an upraise from the ninth level a four-inch streak has been uncovered that yields from $1,000 to $12,000 to the ton. Over $24,000 was taken out in four days last week.

An important strike has been made in the Tessaman tunnel group, Gold Hill district, near Pitkin, Col. The vein is wide and the ore high grade, carrying gold and silver values.

The shaft on the Electra group, near Gilbert, Ariz., is down 70 feet on a four-foot vein of gold-bearing quartz. The pay streak is 16 inches wide and assays average $30 a ton.

A company of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Canadian capitalists has bought 22 claims in Stein pass district, N. M. The price was $300,000. Two smelting plants are to be built on the group. The management of the Portedo and Solice has put up a 75-ton concentrating plant at Organ.

Sixty-five tons of ore from the Velvet, on Sophie mountain, near Rossland, B. C., yielded 92 ounces gold, 1,400 ounces silver and 725 pounds of copper, an average of $33.97 a ton. The net proceeds from the smelters were $1,386.

Dirt from Gopher holes, near the old Monogros, in Toole, Utah, was found to assay 20 per cent copper and 7.20 ounces silver. Several claims have been located by the finder.

The Toltec Company of New York, operating in the Crescent district, Nev., has ten men employed in its turquoise mine. The stones found are very high grade; the largest one found was as big as a hen's egg and worth $3,000.

Several fine strikes have occurred in Utah since the beginning of the new year. On the 600-foot level of the Mammoth, at Tintic, high-grade copper and silver ore has been uncovered, the silver values running 250 ounces to the ton. In the Iowa, quarry sacks running $30 gold has been exposed on the 400-foot level, and two discoveries of fine silver-lead and copper ore are announced in the Utah at Fish Springs.

Montana is also to the front again with gold discoveries in Madison county. A streak of gold ore in the tunnel of the Fourth of July at Ferry assays $170 a ton. A 12 to 18-inch ledge in the Olympia gives returns of $150 gold, 20 per cent lead and 70 ounces silver; and an 8 to 12-inch ledge in the Bonanza gives assays $150 gold, 25 per cent lead and 16 ounces silver to the ton.

The Metal Market.

A very good rise in values for tin was cabled from London today as a result of a large speculative demand. Closing prices were £1 net higher, with spot at £123 15s and futures at £121 15s. New York followed with a gain of more than one cent a pound, closing with spot at 27 70@28 00, with a strong tone. Copper was easy at New York, with spot at 12@12¼c for lake, 12.15c for electrolytic and 12c for casting. London copper prices were unchanged, with spot at £53 12s 6d and futures at £53 12s 6d. Lead was steady and unchanged here and abroad. New York closed at 4¼c and London at £17 15s. Spelter was quiet, easy and unchanged, with New York at $4 40 and London at £17 15s. Iron locally ruled steady and unchanged. Pig iron warrants were nominal at $15 for foundry, and $14 50@20 00; No. 2 foundry northern, $18 00@19 00; No. 1 foundry southern, $17 50@18 00; No. 1 foundry southern soft, $17 50@18 00. The English markets were higher, Glasgow closing at 53s 6d and Middlesboro at 47s 7½d.

GENERAL LIST SUFFERS LOSS BY REALIZING

Surplus Reserves of the Banks Nearly Wiped Out by Urgent Demands.

CALL MONEY 7 PER CENT

Two Millions and a Half of Gold Repuisitioned for Shipment Abroad, While Interior Demand Does Not Lessen—A Few Firm Spots.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—The upward movement of stocks which had attained some headway during the latter part of last week did not prosper today in face of the rapidly contracting supplies in the money market. The stocks which were made the leaders of last week's movement were the chief sufferers from the selling. The total volume of dealings fell considerably below the million share mark touched on Friday, but considerably more than one-third of the total was made up of St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville and Union Pacific. The selling cost St. Paul 2⅝, Louisville & Nashville 1⅞, and Union Pacific 1⅜. This course of events naturally detracted somewhat from the interest in the conjectures of the source of the heavy demand for those stocks and the community of interest and merger project which might be aimed at.

Expectations Disappointed.

Wall street's suspicion of last week that the movement was a speculative maneuver to invite a following in the general market was strengthened. The rather abrupt reaction in these stocks as a result of the developments in the money market was chiefly remarkable from the fact that those developments were generally admitted to be impending last week. The answer made to this was that the abundance of capital in the west would relieve the situation and give free scope to the buying of stocks. But when the call money rate shot up to 7 per cent this afternoon, the highest point of the season, this assurance did not avail to prevent throwing over of large amounts of stock.

Paying Foreign Debts.

The foreign exchange market was apparently not in the least affected by the outgo of $2,500,000 gold, showing that the consignment is in payment of foreign obligations, as has been the case with preceding shipments for some time. Besides the gold shipment the banks have lost to the sub-treasury since the weekly bank statement some $338,000. There was a deposit also of $100,000 in currency at the sub-treasury today for transfer to Cincinnati, while New York exchange at Chicago fell to 20 cents discount. As the bank statement on Saturday showed the surplus reserve down to $2,649,325, it will be perceived that today's demands were sufficient to wipe out the surplus.

Losses Were General.

All departments of the list were affected and the day's losses run quite generally from 1 to 2 points and over that in exceptional cases. Amalgamated Copper ignored the general tendency of the market, as it did when the market was going up, and rose briskly at the last of the day to 1¼ over last week. Other firm spots were in the local tractions, some of the Express stocks, Westinghouse Electric, Chicago & Alton, the Wisconsin Central stocks, the Duluth South Shore & Atlantic stocks and some minor stocks. The action of the day's grain markets gave some intimation that last week's stock market assumptions of the safety of the winter wheat crop were somewhat premature. But the flurry in the money market was the overshadowing influence, and the market closed active and easy and generally at the lowest.

A few of the newer bond issues were advanced, but the general tendency was slightly easier in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $4,540,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Cattle.

Receipts of cattle at the East Liberty stock yards today amounted to 75 carloads, as against 90 loads Monday, and this decrease was reflected in the quotations, which advanced from 10 to 15 cents over figures of last week. Dealers state that the supply to be drawn on for this market is scarce, and will not be more plentiful until the coming of grass fed stock, which will be in a couple of months. In grazing districts a corresponding increase in cattle raising during the month of April, and stock thus fed may be expected in the market in June. The local market was very active today, offerings being well sold up before noon.

Choice, 1,400 to 1,600 lbs, $6 70@6 85; prime, 1,200 to 1,400 lbs, $6 40@6 65; good, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs, $5 90@6 20; tidy butchers', $5 25@5 60; fair, $4 50@5 10; heifers, $4 00@6 25; good fresh cows and springers, $45@60; common to fair fresh cows, $25@40.

Hogs.

Receipts of hogs today were 35 double decks, 15 less than the same day last week. Quotations advanced from 10 to 15 cents, and the great activity of the market quickly absorbed all offerings. While receipts show little difference from the average for the time of year, demand is unusually heavy and prices are very firm.

Prime heavies, $7 15@7 20; best mediums, $7 00@7 05; heavy Yorkers, $6 90@6 95; light Yorkers, $6 70@6 80; pigs, $6 40@6 50; roughs, $5 00@6 00.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep and lambs were in very light receipt today, less than half as many arriving as came in last Monday. Quotations advanced about 25 cents over prices current the close of week ago, and offerings cleaned up quickly. The only falling off was in veal calves, for which request was slow and prices declined.

Best wethers, 95 to 100 lbs, $6 00@6 10; good, 85 to 90 lbs, $5 60@5 85; mixed, 75 to 85 lbs, $5 00@5 40; culls and common, $3 00@4 50; choice lambs, $7 00@7 10; common to good, $5 00@6 85; clipped sheep, $3 00@5 50; clipped lambs, $4 00@6 40 spring lambs, $6@12c per lb; veal calves, $5 50@6 00; heavy and thin, $4 00@4 50.

Much Activity Displayed in Local Stocks, but Prices Were Irregular

SHARP GAINS MADE BY THE FAVORED ONES

Heavy Buying Brought New High Records to Several Issues.

CRUCIBLE STEELS WEAKER

A Pittsburgh Stock Exchange Seat Jumped $300 to $10,000—The U. S. Steels Fractionally Lower. Coal Stocks Were Dull.

There was a good deal of genuine excitement furnished by the market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday. Indeed, there has not been such a day this year and for a longer time than that. The brokers kept up a constant buzz all day, and when the gavel fell over 18,000 shares were represented in the transactions, to say nothing of some $11,000 bonds, some scrip, warrants and rights. Of course, the general trend of prices was upward (there never is unusual activity on the local exchange otherwise), but there was also a great deal of irregularity and jumping up and down of prices that afforded brilliant opportunities for the scalpers. As a result of the day's business several new high records were scored and some good advances maintained. The features were not many, being confined principally to Crucible Steel issues, American Window Glass common, the Westinghouse Electrics and Union Switch and Signal. Comparatively the other shares were quiet, but generally steady to firm. In point of activity Crucible Steel common led the list, selling over 6,300 shares. The stock opened at 22½ and declined to 22, but rallied ⅛ at the close. The preferred was steadier on sales of nearly 1,600 shares at 83¾@88. There is no apparent reason for the selling of the stocks unless it be the one already assigned—a desire to invest in the Railway Steel Spring Company's shares, which promise considerable activity. The real sensation of the day was in American Window Glass, which sold over 5,300 shares. It was very irregular. Opening at 60½, it jumped to 62, then broke to 60½ again, and finally closed at 61¾, a gain of 1⅜ for the day. The preferred was a shade firmer and, ½ higher at 89½ for less than 200 shares. The advance is credited to the probable outcome of a meeting of the company's representatives and of the jobbers' association, which is said to be on for today in New York. However, greater importance is attached to the perfection of the new machine for the manufacture of glass, which will immensely cheapen the process, so it is claimed. It seems now that the public is beginning to place some faith in this machine, the many advantages of which have been dilated upon for months past without causing a flurry of any kind in the stock heretofore. Still, nothing is definitely known, and guesswork in the past has proven almost fatal in connection with alleged "probabilities" in regard to Window Glass' next shift. It went up to 65 last September and way down afterward without many outsiders knowing the why or the wherefore, and all that, and more, may happen again. Westinghouse Electric seconds opened at 98½ and in a few moments hit 102 for 500 shares, a new high record. Then they dropped to 100¾ and rallied at the close to 101¾, a gain of $3 for the day. The firsts opened at 100 and jumped to 102 without an intervening sale. Nearly 1,000 seconds changed hands. The movement was probably due to New York speculation, as that market for the stock was unusually active, reaching 102½. No other reason is assigned here, and, in lieu of anything official, that one is about as good as another. Union Switch and Signal common was firmer at 89¾, a gain of ½, while the preferred advanced to 105, a new high record, and was afterward bid up to 105¼. Airbrake was also firmer. A Pittsburgh stock exchange seat reached the $10,000 mark, a new high record. Bonds were quiet, but steady to firm. The market closed still active.

FOWLER'S BILL LIKELY TO PASS THE HOUSE SOON

Senate Probably Will Not Have Time This Session to Dispose of It.

IN SHAPE FOR NEXT YEAR

Meanwhile Republicans Expect It Will Yield Them a Profitable Issue For the Fall Campaign and Keep in Line the Gold Democrats.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 601 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.

The bill favorably reported by Chairman Fowler from the banking and currency committee of the house, providing for asset and elastic national bank currency and a number of other important changes in financial laws, probably will not become a law at this session of congress, although it is the intention of Representatives Fowler, Overstreet, Hill and other students of financial questions to make every effort to push the measure to success.

It is said the members of the banking and currency committee have assurance that the measure will be taken up for consideration in the house and it is asserted by Mr. Fowler and others that the bill has sufficient support in the house to go through that body.

It is admitted that there are many provisions to the measure and this is usually a source of weakness, inasmuch as it is difficult to get any way near solid support for a bill embracing so many features.

Cover Too Much Ground.

This has heretofore been the real weakness of many financial measures. While one part of a bill might appeal to a congressman's favorable consideration, another would meet his opposition. In the present case, however, the Republican members of the committee have almost unanimously agreed upon the bill.

It is expected the measure will be given consideration at a Republican caucus and adopted as a party measure. Then, if it passes the house, the Republicans will have an issue for the congressional campaign this fall. The chances are against the bill passing the senate at this session. By going through the house at this session it will be in position for favorable consideration in the senate at the next session. In the senate more weighty questions are pending for settlement.

Gold Democratic Allies.

With the Fowler bill a law financial issues could play no part from then on and the disposition of gold Democrats might be to go back to their old affiliations. Republicans are glad to have their allies with them and are sure that the regular Democrats will keep up the old sound money fight in many districts throughout the country if the issue is furnished them by the passage in the house of the Fowler bill.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

TWO FOR P. C. KNOX.

Representatives Sibley and Palmer Would Likely See Pittsburgher Elected Governor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—(Special.)—Representative Connell is threatening to break with the leaders if they drop Mr. Elkin. Mr. Connell said to the writer today:

"John P. Elkin is an honorable man, and is deserving of this nomination if any man is. He has always been loyal to the party and should not be turned down. Furthermore, he was not connected in any way with Gov. Stone's change of front in Pittsburgh. I know this."

Another interesting development appears in the two following statements. The first is from Representative Sibley:

"When P. C. Knox was mentioned in the Washington correspondence of The Gazette in connection with the nomination for governor I felt that a better selection could not have been made. He would come nearer uniting the party than any man that I know of, and would be elected by a majority of from 250,000 to 300,000. It would be an ideal nomination, and would be as acceptable to the independents as the regulars."

The second statement was from Representative Palmer of Wilkesbarre, who said:

"The nomination of Mr. Knox would be a very acceptable one in our section of the state, and would make it much easier for our candidates on the local tickets to be elected."

These two expressions came to me voluntarily and without seeking.

State Senator W. M. Brown of Lawrence county was at the capitol today conferring with Senators Quay and Penrose. He is still in the contest for the nomination for lieutenant governor and expects to win.

UP TO THE PRESIDENT.

Senate Adopts Conference Report on War Tax Reduction.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—(Special.)—The conference committee's report on the war tax reduction bill was adopted by both house and senate today and now goes to the president. As passed by the senate the tax on transactions in so-called bucket shops was retained. The conferees struck out that provision, it being explained that the house would not consent to its retention. Democratic speakers in the senate today insisted on retention of the tax, but the bill finally passed 30 to 20.

The Chinese exclusion bill was read for committee amendments.

GREENVILLE'S POSTMASTER.

Capt. J. H. Martin Recommended by Representative Showalter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—(Special.)—Representative Showalter today recommended the appointment of Captain J. H. Martin to be postmaster at Greenville, Pa. Captain Martin's appointment was agreed upon over a month ago, but was held back until after the Mercer county Republicans had held their primaries. These were held Saturday.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

The comptroller of the currency has approved of the selection of the Seaboard National bank of New York and the Girard National bank of Philadelphia as reserve agents for the Sheffield (Pa.) National bank.

Representative Thayer (Dem., Massachusetts) has introduced a resolution in the house aimed at the reported "beef trust." The resolution calls on the attorney general to inform the house what steps have been taken to investigate this charge and to prosecute the violators of the law.

A motion to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction the Maria Teresa prize money case of the United States against Rear Admiral Sampson was lost in the supreme court of the United States. This decision sustains the jurisdiction of the lower court and the case will be finally settled by the supreme court.

The United States supreme court has overruled the demurrer of the state of Colorado. The case involves the right of Colorado to appropriate for irrigation the waters of the Arkansas river, which Kansas sought to restrain. The decision is without precedent and does not affect the merits of the case.

The United States consul at Elbenstok, Germany, has reported to the state department that as a result of the experiments conducted at Kiel in the Slaby-Arco and Braun systems of wireless telegraphy, it is expected that the whole German fleet, naval and mercantile, will be fitted with the Slaby-Arco instruments.

Senator Rawlins told the senate committee on the Philippines that the civil governor and other officials of the province of Tobayas, together with a major of volunteers, who had made a report containing serious charges against the military administration in that province, had been thrown into prison because of resentment against that report. A resolution was at once adopted calling on the secretary of war for a copy of the report.

In the United States supreme court an opinion was delivered by Justice Brewer in the case of Hine and others against the city of New York and Controller Bird S. Coler, involving the right of the city to appropriate all the water of a stream on which the complainants resided. The case was decided against the city by the circuit court of appeals, but Monday's opinion reversed that finding and remanded the case for further hearing.

VAULTS ORDERED FOR A BANK IN FRICK BUILDING

A Savings Institution Will Be Located on the First Floor.

WILL USE ARMOR PLATE

The Sections of the Big Safe Will Each Weigh From 10 to 12 Tons and the Total Cost Will Be About $45,000.

Henry C. Frick is to have one of the finest and best-equipped savings banks in the city in the new Frick building. While plans have not been fully matured the Fifth avenue half of the first floor of the building is now being completed for this purpose. There is said to be under advisement a plan to make the bank a branch of the Union Trust Company, which would be possible under the charter of this company, the Frick building institution to take care of the savings and banking features of the company, while in present headquarters the growing trust and other business would continue to be cared for.

Permit for Vaults Secured.

A permit was secured yesterday in the name of Henry C. Frick at the office of the Pittsburgh building inspector for the erection of an armor plate vault for the bank. The sections of armor plate to be used will each weigh from 10 to 12 tons and the safety vault will cost about $45,000.

Since the gigantic building of Mr. Frick was undertaken the owner has been planning to have a large bank on the first floor for the convenience of the large and wealthy colony occupying the building. That he will himself head the banking company is as yet uncertain, but his plans are being carried out to provide for a modern banking house there.

May Be Union Trust Company.

Mr. Frick and A. W. Mellon hold the control in the Union Trust Company and it could be readily arranged to transfer the banking business of this company to the new building. A report that the Citizens National bank at No. 424 Wood street, the control of which Mr. Frick is said to have purchased some time ago, was to be moved to the Frick building is denied by President S. M. McElroy and others connected with the institution. It has been said that this bank was to be transferred to the new quarters for more extensive operations. The control in this bank was purchased recently at $85 for the $50 share.

W. A. Carr's Name Mentioned.

Another report that the Standard National bank, which has been in process of formation for a long time, was to go into the Frick building, is also denied by those in interest.

W. A. Carr, formerly assistant to the president and treasurer of the Union Trust Company, has become associated with Mr. Frick in relation to financial affairs. In case Mr. Frick becomes the head of the new bank for his building, or a branch of the Union Trust Company is established there, it is expected in banking circles that Mr. Carr will take a prominent place in the institution.

BUTTER FOLLOWS MEAT.

Elgin Board of Trade Decrees a Three Cent Advance on Creamery.

At the meeting of the Elgin board of trade yesterday afternoon the price of creamery butter was advanced 3 cents a pound wholesale. This makes the price of prints 33 cents, and retailers will charge consumers from 38 to 40 cents a pound. Scarcity of milk is really responsible for the advance, and this will not be overcome before the first of next month. Stocks had gotten very low in all eastern markets and the local supply is scant. Oleo was also advanced a half cent by manufacturers, but this will not be noticeable in retail prices.

Not more than half as many eggs came into this market yesterday as on last Monday, and quotations went forward one cent a dozen. Dealers say there is no shortage of eggs throughout the country, but the bad condition of roads makes it almost impossible to get stocks to shipping points.
